

Christian Renewal Conferences

Marymount College launched its annual series of Christian Renewal Conferences Sunday, October 20, when the Reverend Robert Gleason, S.J., professor of theology at Fordham University, spoke on the subject, "Belief of the Unbeliever".

Author of fifteen books, the latest, "Restless Religious," Father Gleason's works have been translated into French, Dutch, Spanish, Italian, Portuguese, Japanese, Hungarian, and Slovak. He has lectured in Europe and the Orient and was recently Smythe Lecturer at the Royal University of Malta.

Internationally known as an American theologian and psychologist who was one of the first to transfer the dynamism of modern European theological thought to the United States, Father Gleason was formerly a staff lecturer at the University of Namur and editor of two publications of modern theological thought, "Eyes of Others" and "Problems and Progress".

Following Father Gleason in the Christian Renewal series will be Reverend Eugene Kennedy, M.M. on Sunday, January 5, speaking on the topic, "Person and the People of God," Reverend John L. McKenzie, S.J., Sunday, January 31, lecturing on, "Idea of the Church: Authority as a Work of Love; and, concluding the conferences, Sunday, February 16, 1969, the first visit to Florida of the outstanding Dutch theologian, Reverend Frans Josef van Beeck, S.J., who will discuss, "Changes in the Church".

LIBRARY CONTRACT AWARDED

Construction of the new library moved a step closer to reality this month when bids were opened and the contract awarded to the Frank J. Rooney Construction Company of Ft. Lauderdale and Miami.

The Rooney bid was $104,000 more than the original estimated cost of the facility. This increase was due to general economic circumstances which have increased cost throughout the building industry.

In order for the college to avoid further delay in construction of the library a request was made for supplemental funds under Title I of the Higher Education Facilities Act for a grant of one-third of the overrun. This request is now being processed. In seeking supplemental funds the college assured the Government it can raise the additional $70,000 of the overrun from private contributions.

Everyone reading this newsletter can assist the college in resolving this financial problem by making a gift to the Library Fund Drive.

Roderick MacLeish — dynamic speaker on world affairs — Washington Commentator for the Westinghouse Broadcasting Company and author of the recently published book "The Sun Stood Still" will visit the campus Wednesday, November 20 to deliver a major address on "The Middle East in Transition".

A Communist Affairs specialist, Mr. MacLeish recently returned from the explosive Middle East, where he not only consulted with the leaders in Cairo and Tel Aviv, but broadcast daily both before and during the brief war. Upon his return he was assigned to cover the emergency United Nations sessions at the Security Council and the General Assembly, as well as the Kosygin — Johnson Conferences in Glassboro, New Jersey.

His book "The Sun Stood Still," encompasses the highly dramatic Six Day Israeli War. A world traveler, Rod MacLeish lived for seven years in Britain and has extensive personal knowledge of the Soviet Union, and all eastern European Countries, Laos, Viet Nam, Thailand as well as the Middle East. In Laos he camped with the Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas; covered the Algerian War and has attended all the major disarmament conferences in the last eight years.

Born in Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, Mr. MacLeish was reared in Illinois and educated at the University of Chicago. His lecture at Marymount is open to the public.

Freshman Welcome

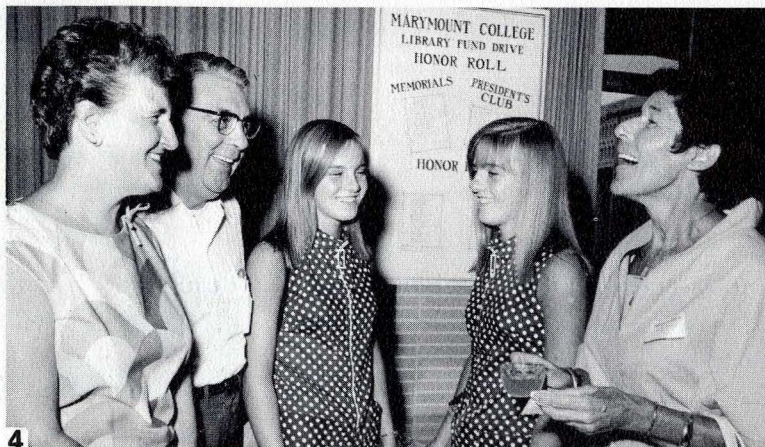

The college inaugurated the beginning of its 6th year by greeting the largest Freshman Class in its history, 320 students, at the President's reception. With registration of 150 returning Sophomores, enrollment is at an all time high of 470 students.

Speaking to the faculty, Sister de la Croix, college president, called for a commitment to effective teaching through creativeness, innovation, and imagination. Each class experience should be a "happening," Sister declared, "an awakening in the student of the desire to want to know and learn more."

Restating the "Christian" character of the college, Sister de la Croix reminded the faculty that an "atmosphere of love" should permeate all relationships on campus.

Picture Identification:

1. Sister de la Croix chats with parents and entering freshmen.
2. Sheryl Lester, Miami; Mary Sosnowski, Oak Park, Illinois; Gail Petricca, Chicago; Sandy Lynch, Elmwood Park, Illinois; and Sally Manning, Dallas, Texas, begin new friendships.
3. Margie Abreu and her entire family made the trip from Costa Rica.
4. Dr. Susan B. Anthony greets twins Diane and Donna King and their parents from Cleveland, Ohio. This year the college has four sets of twins and a set of triplets in the freshman class.
5. New faculty members were also on hand to meet the freshmen. Ed DeLorme, English; Mrs. John H. Storch, Business; Miss Marian Smith, English and Spanish; and Miss Mary Kay Kelly, Social Science.
6. William T. Manikas, History, has something to say to Mrs. Joseph D'Antonio, Physical Education; Mrs. Collie Orcutt, English; and Don Kusnir, Business. Could be he's asking Mrs. D'Antonio where her alma mater, Slippery Rock College, is located.

Prayer Workshop

Men and women of all faiths are invited to participate in the Second Ecumenical Prayer Workshop to be held at Marymount College, Friday, November 1, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

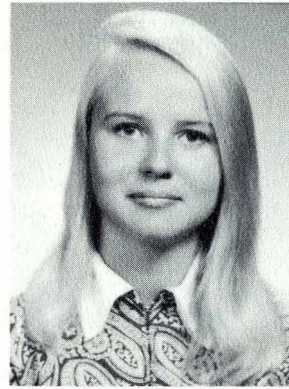

Dr. Justin Steurer, head of Marymount's Division of Humanities, and professor of Theology, who has just returned from European study, will keynote the morning's session.

The workshop, under the direction of Dr. Susan B. Anthony, assistant professor of theology, aims to help prayer-oriented men and women launch and lead small prayer groups in their own communities.

Men and women from Miami, Fort Lauderdale, Palm Beach, Delray Beach, Pompano Beach, Deerfield Beach and Boca Raton, some of whom launched prayer groups as a result of last year's workshop, will attend.

A model prayer-share group composed of adult and undergraduate Marymount students who have studied with Dr. Anthony, will take place following Dr. Steurer's keynote address. Lunch in the college dining room will be followed by a 1:00 p.m. discussion session in South Hall Lounge.

"Contemporary Contemplation" is the theme of this second workshop. Dr. Anthony is founder of the National Ecumenical Prayer Conference at Notre Dame, Indiana, in 1965, and author of a leading textbook on spontaneous prayer, THE PRAYER - SUPPORTED APOSTLE. Her students, adult and undergraduate, are in charge of planning and arrangements for the workshop, November 1.

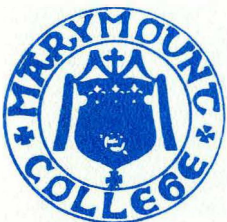

CAROL WERSHOVEN

Alumnae Relations Office

Selected to temporarily head the new Alumnae Relations office is one of the college's outstanding graduates, Miss Carol Wershoven. Carol will assist Sister Kathleen (formerly Sister Gerald), alumnae moderator, in planning programs designed to retain and increase interest and support of former students.

Carol is a native of New Jersey but has lived in Nassau, Bahamas, for the past eleven years. She attended Rosarian Academy in West Palm Beach where she was graduated valedictorian and a National Merit semi-finalist. In 1965 Carol was a member of the first graduating class to receive the A.A. degree. As a student at Marymount she was a member of the President's Honor Society, on the Dean's List, and at graduation received the award for the highest grade point average in the liberal arts curriculum. She was also editor of the college's first newspaper.

Upon graduation Carol continued her studies at our neighboring Florida Atlantic University, graduating with the B.A. in English, cum laude, in 1966 and the M.A. in Curriculum, emphasis on English last summer. Carol is currently a member of the faculty, in charge of the reading development program.
