Dear Patrons,

Welcome to the 2003-2004 performance season at Lynn University’s Conservatory of Music. We will have an exciting season with the introduction of six new subscription series that will fascinate your senses. We are pleased to be able to present exceptional live classical music to the South Florida community.

Reserve your nights for the Symphonic Knights Series, six concerts presented by the Lynn University Philharmonia directed by our new resident conductor, Albert-George Schram. It will be a fantastic orchestral season with 3 great 5th symphonies performed in two new concert halls. The conservatory will present a 3 concert Multimedia Series that will combine different art forms, such as music, poetry, drama and the visual arts. We will continue our tradition of chamber music and solo performances with the Strings of the Heart Series and the Piano Series. My favorite concert series, entitled the Dean’s Series, will feature six concerts with conservatory student performances selected by the faculty, continuing the tradition of varied and highly professional concerts. In addition, we will present several individual concerts presented by our distinguished faculty, their award-winning students, and guest artists.

The conservatory continues to grow and offer quality education to gifted young artists. In order to reach our educational and financial goals, we rely on supporters like you to help us in a positive way. Your active support, sponsorships, and direct contributions to the conservatory scholarship fund will guarantee that we reach these goals. For additional information on how you may assist the conservatory, please call (561) 237-7766.

We look forward to seeing you again as we celebrate another year of joyous music.

Enjoy the season!

The Lynn University Philharmonia sets the standard for university level symphonic training. The Lynn University Philharmonia is directed by Albert George Schram, former resident conductor of the Florida Philharmonic and resident conductor of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra.

The Philharmonia was first formed in 1991 as the Harid String Orchestra with the founding of the Conservatory in 1991. It became a full symphony orchestra in 1993. As an integral part of the training of both graduate and undergraduate music students of Lynn University, the Philharmonia offers excellent orchestral training through the preparation and performance of orchestral repertoire and a minimum of 6 public performances per year. It has presented several new works throughout its history and has always been enthusiastically received by the public and the press. Music directors of the Philharmonia have included such conductors as Markand Thakar and Arthur Weisberg, and many guest conductors such as David Lockington, Zeev Dorman, Joseph Silverstein, Claudio Jaffé, Sergiu Schwartz, and others. It has performed in such venues as the Lincoln Theater in Miami Beach, the Coral Springs City Center, the Spanish River Church in Boca Raton, and the Broward Center for the Performing Arts. Now in its 11th season as a full symphony orchestra, the Lynn University Philharmonia Orchestra continues to present high quality concerts with a wide range of repertoire.
Albert-George Schram
Resident Conductor

A native of the Netherlands, Dr. Schram is resident staff conductor of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra, a principal guest conductor of the Charlotte Symphony Orchestra, and resident conductor of the Lynn University Conservatory of Music Philharmonia Orchestra. He has been resident conductor of the Florida Philharmonic. His longest tenure has been with the Columbus Symphony Orchestra, where he has worked in a variety of capacities since 1979.

Concurrently, Dr. Schram was music director and conductor of the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra from 1994-2000. During his tenure, the orchestra blossomed into the premier arts organization in West Texas. From 1990 to 1996, Dr. Schram served as resident conductor of the Louisville Symphony Orchestra. Three of the orchestra’s subscription series have enjoyed exceptional growth under his artistic guidance.

Dr. Schram’s recent foreign conducting engagements have included the KBS Symphony Orchestra (live, televised concerts), the Taegu Symphony Orchestra in Korea, and the Orchester der Allgemeinen Musikgesellschaft Luzern in Switzerland. He has made return appearances to his native Holland to conduct the Netherland Radio Orchestra and the Netherland Broadcast Orchestra.

In the United States, his recent and upcoming guest conducting appearances include the Florida Philharmonic, Dallas Symphony Orchestra, Tucson Symphony, Oklahoma City Philharmonic, Spokane Symphony, Louisville Orchestra, Dayton Philharmonic, Charlotte Symphony, Nashville Symphony, Shreveport Symphony, San Antonio Symphony, Ballet Metropolitan, and the Akron University Opera.

Dr. Schram’s studies have been largely in the European tradition under the tutelage of Franco Ferrara, Rafael Kubelik, Abraham Kaplan, and Neeme Järvi. He has studied at the Conservatory of the Hague in the Netherlands, the universities of Calgary and Victoria, and the University of Washington where he received the Doctor of Musical Arts in conducting.
