About Lynn University

Lynn University is a private, coeducational university awarding bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees. Lynn stresses individualized learning, innovative approaches and an international focus.

The university currently enrolls more than 2,700 students representing 43 U.S. states and 93 nations. In addition to its colleges of business, international communication, arts and sciences, hospitality management and education, the university houses specialty programs including the Conservatory of Music, School of Aeronautics and the Institute for Achievement and Learning, which is an international pioneer in developing successful teaching strategies for students with learning differences. Kevin M. Ross was named Lynn University's fifth president in July 2006. For more information on Lynn, visit www.lynn.edu.

The Conservatory of Music at Lynn University

One of the leading conservatories within a university environment, the Conservatory of Music at Lynn University admits a highly select group of gifted musicians from around the world to pursue rigorous solo, chamber and orchestral training, as well as a carefully crafted academic program of study that leads to the Bachelor of Music Performance, Bachelor of Music, Master of Music or Professional Performance Certificate.

About Our Lynn University Philharmonia Orchestra

The Lynn University Philharmonia Orchestra sets the standard for conservatory level symphonic training. Now in its 15th season as a full symphony, the Philharmonia is an integral part of the education of the conservatory's graduate and undergraduate music students. Each year, the Philharmonia presents a high-quality concert series with a wide range of repertoire. Albert-George Schram is the artistic director and conductor.

Jon Robertson, guest conductor and soloist

Maestro Jon Robertson, dean of the Lynn University Conservatory of Music, enjoys a distinguished career as a pianist, conductor and academician. A graduate of The Juilliard School of Music, he studied piano performance under Beveridge Webster, choral conducting with Abraham Kaplan at Juilliard, and orchestral conducting with Herbert Blomstedt, music director of the Gewandhaus Orchestra (Germany). Robertson is music director and conductor of the Redlands Symphony and continues to perform as a pianist in chamber music ensembles.

Marc Reese, trumpet soloist

Internationally acclaimed trumpeter and Conservatory of Music artist-faculty Marc Reese is a member of the Empire Brass. Reese maintains a busy schedule as a chamber musician, soloist and educator, touring extensively worldwide. In addition to recording for Telarc with the Empire Brass, Reese has recorded for the Sony and Naxos labels. For more information, please visit www.MarcReese.com.
