Biographies

Jodie DeSalvo, piano

Born in Connecticut, Ms. DeSalvo is a graduate of both the Manhattan School of Music and the Hartt School of Music and at the latter accompanied Raya Garbousova's class for four years. She made her Carnegie Hall debut as winner of the Artists International Competition to such unanimous acclaim that she returned the following season for a command performance at New York's Merkin Concert Hall. Her subsequent recitals throughout Europe and the United States have been eloquently praised and her commitment to women in music has made her a champion in works by Clara Schuman, Amy Beach, Fanny Mendelssohn and Ellen Taaffe Zwilich. She is on the faculty at Florida International University.

Paula Linder, soprano

Lyric Soprano Paula Linder began studying classical voice at the age of 14. Paula has continued to study with a variety of Opera singers, including at the Chicago Conservatory of Music. At the age of 15, Paula began her career as a High Holiday Soloist, which she continues to do as a member of The Arthur Adler Quartet, a professional accapella quartet, in Chicago. While studying at Southern Illinois University, Paula appeared in Kismet with the SIU Summer Music Theater. She has also appeared in such Professional Operetta's as The Student Prince, Die Fledermaus, The Sorcerer and Rose Marie with Light Opera Works in Chicago, as well as roles in many other Musicals, including, 42nd Street, Annie get your Gun, Oklahoma, The Sound of Music, Finnian's Rainbow, and George M.

Paula resides in Boca Raton with her husband Chuck and their toy poodles, Red Buttons, Lucy B, and Princess, as well as a cockatiel named Domingo. Most performances, you can find their children, Debbie with her husband Mark, Aaron, and Michael, applauding enthusiastically in the audience.

At age sixteen, he was accepted to study, with full scholarship, at Idyllwild Arts Academy in California. At Idyllwild, he was a semifinalist at the Spotlight Competition in Los Angeles and won 1st Prize at the Temecula Young Artists Competition in California. Lynn University Conservatory of Music

Lynn University

Lynn University, a private, coeducational institution founded in 1962, has grown from modest beginnings to more than 2,000 students from 44 states and 89 nations, creating educational traditions where students are provided with a rich multicultural experience and global awareness in the heart of a dynamic urban community.

The Conservatory's Mission

The mission of the conservatory is to provide high quality performance education for gifted young musicians and set a superior standard for music performance education worldwide. Primary among the goals of the conservatory is the nurture and education of the student body with a thorough attention to musicianship, artistry, and skills needed to succeed in the field of music performance.

Students at the Conservatory

The current students represent 13 countries and 19 states, with 14 conservatory students from Florida. When they graduate, these young musicians will go on to perform with some of the most prestigious symphonies in the world. Conservatory graduates play with orchestras from Calgary, Detroit, Montreal, Milwaukee, Washington D.C., Pittsburgh, the New World Symphony, to the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra.

The exceptional quality of the students and the program's success is evidenced by 98% of the conservatory graduates remaining active in music. The list of prizes won by conservatory students includes international awards from France, Italy, Spain, Canada, and Switzerland. They have also won Fulbright fellowships, the Juilliard Concerto Competition, National Trumpet Competition, Rubinstein Int'l Piano Competition, and the Wallenstein Violin Competition. Graduates go on to further their education at Juilliard, Eastman, New England Conservatory, Yale, and other prestigious schools.

The Conservatory of Music moves to Lynn University

In 1998 the Harid Conservatory of music and dance made the decision to focus their efforts on their dance division only. Rather than lose the cultural and educational treasure of the music division's faculty and students who provide our community with more than 100 concerts, lectures, and Master Classes each year, Lynn University "adopted" the conservatory. It was a natural partnership between institutions that shared geographic proximity and a commitment to excellence in education.

The Need

To maintain levels of excellence, Lynn University built the 220-seat Amarnick-Goldstein Concert Hall in 2001. This past summer, the conservatory moved from the Harid campus to renovated offices, studios, and practice rooms in an existing building on the Lynn campus. In addition to capital expenses associated with the move, the university must meet the $1.15 million annual budget for the conservatory. Additionally, Lynn University is striving to continue to award the $1 million annual scholarships that allow the conservatory to attract exceptional music students from around the world.

Today Lynn University seeks to promote the conservatory and continue its traditions of excellence. Funding is sought for many diverse projects such as the purchase of instruments (from pianos to drums), a music library, a $10 million Fine Arts complex, and the building of an endowment for scholarships so the arts can thrive at Lynn University and in South Florida. You can help bring music to our community when you contribute to the Lynn University Conservatory of Music.
