Amarnick-Goldstein Concert Hall
Boca Raton, FL

Russian pianist, Valeriya Polunina, was born into an artist family in Tashkent, Uzbekistan, and began concertizing internationally before she was a teenager. Since making her orchestral debut at the age of 15 with Russian’s renowned BACH Chamber Orchestra Mrs. Polunina has achieved a graceful transition from a child to a mature artist of both technical prowess and elegant artistry. A resident of Moscow (Russia) Mrs. Polunina is an Honorable winner of the “Russian Performing Art” Scholarship Award. Valeriya Polunina’s 2008-2009 season began with a First Place victory at the “Elizabeth Harper Vaughn Concerto Competition” (2009, Tennessee). She is also a winner of Concerto Competition at Lynn University (2008, Florida and 2010, Florida); a prize-winner of the London International Piano Competition (2003, England). Mrs. Polunina has appeared as a soloist with many orchestras such as Treasure Coast Symphony, Symphony of the Mountains, and Lynn Philharmonia. For the past two years she has been collaborating with conductors of great stature among who are Jon Robertson, Albert Schram, Cornelia Kodkani-Laemmli, and Terence Kirchgessner. In addition, a chamber music enthusiast, Mrs. Polunina has jointly worked as a member of various chamber ensembles. She is a member of Palm Trio that was a finalist of the 63rd Annual Coleman Chamber Ensemble Competition. Mrs. Polunina has participated in numerous music festival where she was repeatedly awarded with Full scholarship among which are International Keyboard Institute and Festival at Mannes and Tel-Hai International Piano Festival. Mrs. Polunina received her Bachelor’s and Master’s degree at the Gnessin’s Academy of Music in Moscow under Marina Drozdova (who is one of few students of Professor Mariya Yudina). She is currently pursuing Master of Music degree at the Lynn University Conservatory of Music in Florida where she studies with renowned Professor - Roberta Rust. In addition to her performing career, Mrs. Polunina is presently serving as a teacher of secondary piano class at the Lynn University Conservatory of Music.
