GEORGE CRUMB was born in Charleston, West Virginia on October 24, 1929.

He studied at the Mason College of Music in Charleston and received the B.Mus. degree in 1950. Thereafter he studied for the Master’s degree at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana under Eugene Weigel. He continued his studies under Boris Blacher at the Hochschule für Musik, Berlin from 1954-1955. He received the D.M.A. in 1959 from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor after studying with Ross Lee Finney.

He first taught theory and analysis at Hollins College, Virginia before being appointed as instructor and assistant professor in piano and composition at the University of Colorado, Boulder in 1958. From 1964-1965 he also acted as creative associate/composer-in-residence at the Buffalo Center for the Creative and Performing Arts, State University of New York, Buffalo. In 1965 a long association with the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia started with his appointment as assistant professor and then full professor. Since 1983 he is the Annenberg Professor of the Humanities. He retired in May 1997 from teaching.

Most of his vocal compositions are settings of the poetry of Federico García Lorca. He has named Debussy, Mahler and Bartók as the principal influences on his music.

George Crumb married Elizabeth May Brown on May 21, 1949. They have one daughter and two sons.

He is the recipient of numerous awards: Elizabeth Croft fellowship for study, Berkshire Music Centre, (1955); Fulbright Scholarship, 1955-6; BMI student award, 1956; Rockefeller grant, 1964; National Institute of Arts and Letters grant, 1967; Guggenheim grant, 1967, 1973; Pulitzer Prize (for Echoes of Time and the River), 1968; UNESCO International Rostrum of Composers Award, 1971; Koussevitzky Recording Award, 1971; Fromm grant, 1973; Member, National Institute of Arts and Letters, 1975; Ford grant, 1976; Prince Pierre de Monaco Gold Medal, 1989; Brandeis University Creative Arts Award; Honorary member, Deutsche Akademie der Kunste; Honorary member, International Cultural Society of Korea; and 6 honorary degrees.

WARREN GOOCH’S music has been performed widely throughout North America and Europe. Gooch is recipient of over thirty composition awards and paid commissions, and publishers include Southern, Neil A. Kjos, Alliance, Flammer, Plymouth, and others. His music has received recognition from the National Federation of Music Clubs, American Choral Directors Association, International Trumpet Guild, Percussive Arts Society, Minnesota Orchestra, and a number of other cultural organizations. Clockwork for orchestra has been recorded by the Slovak Radio Orchestra, on the MMC label.
Completing his doctorate in composition at the University of Wisconsin-Madison in 1988, Gooch has studied with Stephen Dembski, Joel Naumann, Eric Stokes, and Mary Mageau and others. Currently, Gooch is Chair of the Theory-Composition area and helps coordinate the music graduate program at Truman State University, where he has twice been a finalist for that university’s “Educator of the Year” award. He is also active in church music.

GREGORY J. HUTTER holds bachelors and masters degrees in theory and composition from Western Michigan University and the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, respectively. He is presently a doctoral candidate in music composition at Northwestern University, where he is also a Lecturer in the Department of Academic Studies and Composition. Mr. Hutter has also served as an Adjunct Professor of Music at Concordia University in River Forest, Illinois. His extensive catalog of compositions includes orchestral, solo and chamber works, music written for theater and modern dance, and works for electronic and computer media.

His music has been presented at various venues, conferences and academic settings throughout North America and Europe, including the Festival Musica Moderna (Lodz, Poland), the Society of Composers, Inc. national and regional conferences, the Syracuse Society for New Music, the Midwest Graduate Music Consortium’s Fifth Annual Meeting at the University of Chicago, June in Buffalo, Music 2001 (Cincinnati College-Conservatory), the New American Arts Festival (Akron), and Austin Peay State University’s Dimensions Series.

Mr. Hutter was the First Prize recipient in the Fourteenth Annual Young Composers’ Competition for 2000, given by the Center for Creative Arts at Austin Peay State University. In 2001, he won the Second Prize in the Chicago Union League Civic and Arts Foundation competition for original piano music. In addition, he was the Second Place winner in the 2001 SCI/ASCAP National Adjudication, Region V-West. Mr. Hutter has also received awards and honors from the Britten-on-the-Bay International Competition Series IX, Brazinmusikanta Publications, Northwestern University, the American Composers Orchestra, and the American Society of Composers Authors and Publishers (ASCAP). His many distinguished teachers include Ramon Zupko, C. Curtis-Smith, Michael Daugherty, William Bolcom, Evan Chambers, M. William Karlins, Alan Stout, and Marta Ptaszynska.

TIMOTHY MELBINGER lives with his wife and cats in Natick, Mass. His music has been recorded on Centaur, Albany, and Nine Winds Records. Performances throughout the United States have featured such ensembles as Speculum Musicae and Auros Group for New Music, and soloists Ingrid Gordon and Esther Lamneck. His accolades include an Aaron Copland Award (Copland House residency), an SCI commission, and a California Octagon Prize. He completed a Ph.D. in composition/theory on the music of Mel Powell at Brandeis University, where he studied with Martin Boykan, David Rakowski, and Yehudi Wyner. He also holds degrees from the University of California at Irvine. He is also a pianist and teacher currently at Harvard University and the University of Massachusetts - Dartmouth.

KURT SANDER (b. 1969) is currently assistant professor and coordinator of music at Indiana University Southeast. His music has been heard at various concerts and festivals throughout the country and in Europe including June-in-Buffalo (1993), EarTalk '99 (Greece), and the 36th National Conference of the Society of Composers, Inc. (2002). His works have been played by the Cleveland Chamber Symphony, the Solaris Wind Quintet, Synchronia Ensemble, The New Music Associates, and Schola Cantorum (Choir of St. Peter’s in the Loop). His music has won recognition in numerous competitions including first prize in the Ninth Annual Young Composers Competition at Austin Peay State University, first prize in the New Music for Young Performers Composition Competition (Midwest Composers Forum), and honorable mention in the 1998 ASCAP Morton Gould Grants for Young Composers Competition. He was also a finalist in the Ladislav Kubik 3rd Annual International Composition Competition. He holds degrees from Northwestern University, Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music, and Cleveland State University. Former teachers include Andrew Imbrie, Alan Stout, M. William Karlins, Rudolph Bubalo, and Bain Murray. His music is published by Lawson-Gould, Media Press, and St. Larissa Press.

GREG A. STEINKE (b. 1942, Fremont, Michigan). Professor Steinke holds a Bachelor of Music degree from Oberlin Conservatory, a Master of Music degree from Michigan State University, a Master of Fine Arts degree from the University of Iowa, and a Doctor of Philosophy degree from Michigan State University.
