Wicked Winds of Wilma
Lynn Takes Boca Blow

Hurricane Wilma came roaring out of the west with wind speeds reaching triple digits, and Palm Beach County took the brunt of the blow as the storm moved across the state.

Boca Raton was hit particularly hard, and LU suffered considerable damage. One hundred and ten trees were blown away, and the lights didn’t come back on until Halloween.

But the campus was safe and secure for students “Lost” at Lynn, and we’re back now.

Nothing can keep a Fighting Knight down, and as classes resume, here’s a look at what the storm-tossed campus looked like.

For safety and security while campus restoration continues, entrance to the campus is currently restricted to employees and students. Please carry your I.D. for identification purposes at the gates. Employees who are expecting students for meetings or work must e-mail their names to security in advance."

Wilma: Stone-Age Mom
The Perfect Paleo-Housekeeper

The Flintstones, which began in the 1960s, was the longest running cartoon television show of the 1970s and 80s with 166 episodes, and has been surpassed only by “The Simpsons” in the 1990s.

The show offered a Stone Age family, headed by the loud but lovable Fred Flintstone and his wife, Wilma.

But the name Wilma no longer represents a cartoon character to those of us suffering the effects of the hurricane that bears her name."

On October 24, 2005 everyone expected Hurricane Wilma’s arrival, but no one expected the results South Florida now faces.

With recorded winds of 125 mph in West Palm Beach alone, according to the National Hurricane Center, Wilma left an impact on South Florida so devastating that no one could have predicted the extensive damage.

Due to three main power grids that went down due to the storm, Lynn University classes were cancelled for two weeks, leaving students wondering what this means for the fall semester.

According to Professor Nick Rovos’ announcement in class Monday, there will be no extension to the semester; however, teachers have been encouraged to assign make-up work to regain for lost time in the classroom.

As for the rest of South Florida, Hurricane Wilma caused over 6 million people to be without power, and Florida Power and Light began issuing statements that it could be up to four weeks until full power was restored.

Traffic lights also took a beating with over 2,600 lights down and only a hand full working throughout the entire South Florida region, according to the Palm Beach Post. On Wednesday, October 26, Boca Raton was issued a boil water alert.

“During the storm, my sliding glass doors were buckling inward from the winds. I never anticipated Wilma to be that strong,” says George Brandner, a senior who lives off of Boca Raton Blvd. in Boca Raton.

“Almost all the trees in my neighborhood were up-rooted and one of which fell on a car and blocked in a neighbor of mine in his apartment. He had to cut his way down with a chainsaw.”

After all this chaos, students were encouraged to leave the area and return home, many of which jumped on the chance to get out of the situation.

FPL states that more than 75% of power has been restored, and those left without power could go until November 22nd until their lights get turned on again.

The curfews have been lifted by the county; however, there are still several traffic lights down in the area, especially on Federal Highway, and many on Military Trail as well.

Dozens of trees and debris still sit along the roads and walkways, and repairs on building roofs and communities continue.

Most of the local restaurants and supermarkets are now up and running, as well as gas stations in the area.

With one month remaining in this year’s hurricane season, there is only hope that this month’s forecast will be clear of any more devastating hurricanes.*

Our Stories: How We Survived the Hurricane

Nicole Walsh

As the hurricane hit, my roommates and I were all awoken by its loud noise. I watched through my patio window as Wilma hit Boca. My roommates and I were lucky enough to be left with only minimal damage. My home was without power for nearly two weeks. Fortunately, I was able to get a hold of my ex-boyfriend who booked flights home for my roommates and I. We arrived at the airport on Wednesday only to find out that it was closed. Thankful­ly, we were able to reschedule flights for the next day. It was very nice to get home to hot water and power.*

Elyssa Sutherland

As Hurricane Wilma whipped towards Boca Ra­ton, I was awakened by the noise of a hurricane. I was frightened by the effects of hurricane winds outside my bedroom window. I turned on the news and called my mom right away to check in. The news showed that the area was getting hit hard, and we hadn’t even gotten the worst yet. Ten minutes later my power went out and I hung up the phone to watch plants and debris fly by with my roommates.

When I looked in my back­yard, I found that it had been completely destroyed. Trees had fallen down, my fence was gone, and my back door was in my pool. After a few days of eating nothing by chips and dry cereal, I booked the first flight back to my home in Hous­ton, Texas.*

Ian Nahana

I woke up early during the hurricane and stepped into a puddle of dirty water. Tree branches were viciously whooshing against the dorm windows, and the powerful winds broke the air conditioner, now a drain­age pipe, for my dorm. For the next two days I lived "Colonial style" using a candle as my source of light. When I walked outside I saw the wreckage that was our school. Fallen trees, parts of buildings, and smashed cars were all around. Two days after the storm, the school announced we would be without power for up to two weeks, and so I packed up and headed out. My friend had a cat we couldn’t leave behind, so we smuggled it on our flight. This experience showed me that preparing for a storm is of dire importance. It also took a hurricane to show me how dehumanized we have become by technology.*

David Hunter

I was very frightened during Hurricane Wilma as it was the first hurricane I went through. I decided to stay home at the last minute to be with my friends. I had a hurricane party with some friends. Soon after they arrived we lost both power and water, leaving me unable to take a shower. After two days without power, my friends and I decided to go to Orlando. We went to all of the theme parks and had a great time.*

Mara Shanes

I awoke to howling winds Monday morning, and was afraid that parts of South Florida might be destroyed. I hadn’t prepared for the hurricane and wasn’t ready to face the aftermath. The lack of gasoline left me stranded for days. The airports weren’t open for days, so escaping Wilma’s de­struction wasn’t an option. On Thursday I was finally able to fly home, where I spent the next week. I checked my Lynn and FPL web sites for updates until I received news that power had been restored.

I am thrilled to be back in South Florida.*

Brittany Rainowas

Because Wilma was such a slow-moving storm, I thought its strength would dwindle down. I was wrong. Hurricane Wilma’s winds began to cause the windows at the apartment to buckle in. At this point I began to panic. Being from Ohio, I had never seen anything like this storm. It was unreal to be at the mercy of a hurricane. In the middle of the hurri­cane was a strange calm. My parents told me this was the eye of the storm, which worried me because of the strength of tail end winds. Luckily the storm left our windows intact.

After the hurricane the sights were unbelievable: cars under trees, flooding, broken windshields, fallen traffic lights, and telephone poles snapped in half. The experience was over­whelming, and I left as soon as I could to go home to Ohio.*

To accomplish great things, we must not only dream, but act. -Bill Blackman

Men's Basketball Picked Favorite
Team Chosen as Pre-season SSC Favorite
By Sara Quatrocky

After capturing the program's first-ever Sunshine State Conference regular season and tournament championships last season, the Lynn University men's basketball team has been chosen as the pre-season favorite to win the 2005-06 SSC championship.

The preseason polls were released today by Commissioner Michael J. Marcel in the Orlando-based office. The Fighting Knights, who advanced to the NCAA Division II Elite Eight a season ago, received nine out of 13 possible first-place votes as the voting was conducted among the league's head coaches and sports information directors.

"We are honored to be picked first in the pre-season poll and this is a direct reflection of the success we enjoyed last season," Head Coach Scott McMillin said, who returns for his third season at the helm of the Knights.

"I really wanted us to win today because it was our seniors last game," said Shropshire. "Barry has a great team and they got some good shots off. Becca [McCray] probably saved as many shots as I did but it's tough because I was getting into the groove at the end of the season. Hopefully this kind of performance can carry over to next season."

Nine different Knights players set personal career records this season while Shropshire's 61 saves this season is the fifth most in program history.

Women's Soccer Loses
Team Falls 1-0 On OT To Barry
By Sara Quatrocky

The woman's soccer team lost to Barry 1-0 in overtime and the Blue and White said goodbye to seven seniors.

"We were down to 14 players but we had a simple game plan that our players stuck to well," said head coach Rocky Orezzoli.

The Knights put together their lowest offensive numbers of the season, ending the match with a season-low 35 kills.
Thursday's game proved disappointing as the Lynn University volleyball team continued its struggles, losing to Barry University in the Sunshine State Conference by the score of 3-0.
Question of the Day
What would you have done differently to prepare for Hurricane Wilma?

"I would've made sure all of my friends had gasoline."
-Brett Thaler, Junior

"I would've had a bigger hurricane party."
-Nelson Lewis, Senior

"I would have had a bigger hurricane party."
-Christina Campione, Senior

"I would have gone home before the hurricane."

Tickenoff stayed at a friend's house for the storm. "Everyone was surprised at how powerful the winds were."

Tickenoff was shocked when the power went out. He stated, "No one thought it was going to be that bad. All of us were taken back by what we saw through the windows."

Tickenoff was pleased with the time off from school, but is still shocked about all of the damage that the hurricane caused.

"The damages was unreal. I couldn't believe all the uprooted trees. I'd never seen anything like it."

Your Stories: Hurricane Wilma
Students Speak Out About Their Experiences
By B. Balowas, M. Botero, D. Hunter, E. Satherland, N. Walsh

Chapin Durline fled Boca Raton when Hurricane Wilma hit South Florida.

He went back to his home in New Jersey after a very chaotic time at the airport.

Virginia Couch spent the hurricane at a friend's house.

When she looked out the window, she was shocked to see "about 20 trees on the ground, cars smashed, and power lines everywhere."

Coach was unable to drive anywhere due to the debris in the road for days.

Couch and her friend were lucky enough to contact Coach's father who bought them plane tickets home for Thursday.

"This was my first hurricane, and I had no idea it could do this much damage to a town," said Coach.

Hurricane Wilma was the second hurricane that Rob Sandler had experienced.

Deciding that he could not live without power, he fled to Ocala a few days after Wilma hit.

Marcela Lacayo new the hurricane was going to be serious. As Wilma's strength increased over the Gulf, Lacayo decided to leave.

When Lacayo found out that the electricity might not be restored for weeks, she travelled home to Nicaragua.

"I remember waking up to the shutters banging on the windows and that was when I realize the hurricane was here."

Dan Rochford decided that he didn't want to go through a hurricane and fled to New Jersey before Hurricane Wilma touched land. There he endured cold weather and played golf.

Lacayo said she never expected the experience to last two weeks. "I thought that by Tuesday we would be back in classes, but the days went by and still nothing [changed]."

Bucs Bash Knights
Men's Soccer Falls 3-2 to Barry
By Chad M. Beattie

Lynn's eighth-ranked men's soccer team lost 3-2 to Barry Saturday, their first at-home loss to the Bucs for the first time since 1999.

Lee Porter scored his eighth goal of the season with four minutes left, but the Knights could not come back and fell to 13-2-0 overall and 6-2-0 in the conference.

David Benn set up the Knights' second goal with a long free kick, launching the ball from mid-way in his zone to Barry's far post.

Porter, who's been on an offensive tear over the past eight games with seven goals and seven assists, beat the Bucs defensive wall and easily made contact on the ball from mid-way in his zone to Barry's far post.

The Blue and White dominated (10-5-1, 4-3-1) in the first half, holding the Bucs without a shot. But BU notched two quick ones and scored in the second half.

In the 53rd minute, Barry's Patrick Miller chest-trapped a long pass that the Knights defense claimed was a hand ball, but Miller quickly continued, beat a defender, and fired to the lower right corner to put his team up 1-0. Urgency crept over LU as the home team consistently pushed forward. The lack of defenders in their own zone to Barry's far post.

Kenneth Viquez sent a low cross from the left wing just inside the top of the box. Scroggins trapped the pass, spun and fired the shot to the left of keeper Chris Rich for his 13th goal of the season.

Less than two minutes later the Knights' defense broke down again and Yakubowich lofted the ball into the right corner of the Lynn zone.

Volleyball Triumph
Lady Knights Win 3-2
By Sara Quatrocky

Junior Melissa Roberts knocked down a career-high 17 kills leading Lynn volleyball's comeback against SSC rival Florida Tech.

The Knights claimed the victory by the score of 3-2 after falling behind 0-2 as the Panthers won both games one and two by the score of 31-29.

The Knights (10-11, 5-7) put together a 32-30 win in the third set before fully taking control in game four with a 30-23 victory to knot up the match. The Knights took down the Panthers in the fifth game 15-6.

Roberts collected 16 digs for the Knights' defense, and senior setter Jessica Woodysh dished up 63 assists while joining Roberts with 10 digs.

Freshman Erin Lynge added 14 kills, while finishing with a team-high .393 hitting percentage and downing three blocks.

Marcus Hayes' team-high 23 points wasn't enough as the Lynn lost to Division I Bethune-Cookman, 78-66, its first exhibition game of the season.

The Knights were led by the senior swingman's 8-of-15 shooting from the field, including a 4-for-7 mark from the 3-point-arch.

The Knights battled in the opening half as Wildcats jumped out to a 12-point lead. Hayes connected on a layup to start a 7-0 run.

Lynn cut the Wildcats 39-37 at the break on a jumper from junior Jasper McDuffus and a 3-pointer from Hayes in the final 30 seconds of the half.

Bethune-Cookman extended the lead to 6 before McDuffus connected on two free-throws with 17:24 remaining, pushing the score, 45-41.

In the next five minutes, the Wildcats strung together a 13-5 run, stretching their lead, 59-46.

Girls & Sports

In the next five minutes, the Wildcats strung together a 13-5 run, stretching their lead, 59-46.

Shooting just 24 percent in the second half, the Knights failed to come back down the home stretch.

Lynn finished with a .379 shooting percentage and the Wildcats edged them with a 45.2 percentage.

Preseason All-American James Cage returned to the floor for the Knights in his senior campaign, knocking down 15 points and dishing out 4 assists.

McDuffus finished his first game for the Blue and White with 12 points and 5 boards.

Newcomer Andrew Smith dropped in 7, gathered 6 rebounds and 4 assists.

The Knights return to action for the season opener on Nov. 15 against Palm Beach Atlantic on their home court.

“My money.”

My father unintentionally saved my life during Hurricane Wilma. He called me around 7:00 am to tell me that the storm was about to hit this area. He told me to get away from any open windows, so I left my bedroom and went to my living room. Ten minutes later I heard a crash from my bedroom and found that my window that sits over the bed had broken. If I hadn’t gotten that call I would have been struck by the glass. After that, the storm was a terrifying experience for me. When it ended, my boyfriend and I went around the neighborhood trying to clean up some of the debris and tree branches. We left three days later for home in Fort Myers.

Basketball Team SCC Favorite
Men's Team Chosen as Preseason Favorite
By Sara Quatrocky

After capturing the program's first-ever Sunshine State Conference regular season and tournament championships last season, the men's basketball team has been chosen as the preseason favorite to win the 2005-06 SSC championship.

The Knights, who advanced to the NCAA Division II Elite Eight a season ago, received nine out of a possible 18 first-place votes.

"We are honored to be picked first in the preseason poll and this is a direct reflection of the success we enjoyed last season," Head Coach Scott McMillin said, who returns for his third season at the helm of the Knights.

"However, we are very aware that we have a long, difficult road in front of us and we look forward to the upcoming season and the challenges that lie ahead."

Last season, the Knights posted a 29-6 overall record which proved to be the most wins in program history. After clinching their league titles, the Knights went on to claim the NCAA South Region Championship and eventually advanced to the national semifinals after knocking off No. 1 Findlay in the opening round of the Elite Eight.

McMillin, the 2004-05 SSC Coach of the Year and NABC South Region Coach of the Year, returns five players, including two starters from his national semifinal squad of a year ago.

Second team All-SSC selection James Cage returns with high expectations for his senior campaign, as he was recently named Lynn's first-ever preseason All-America by Street & Smith Magazine.

Senior captain Marcus Hayes returns to the starting lineup after being the only Fighting Knight to start all 35 games a year ago, capping off his junior season as the Most Outstanding Player in the NCAA South Region Tournament.

Looking to defend their SSC Championships, the Knights will tangle with league rival Barry on Dec. 10 at 7:00 pm in the first conference game of the season.*

The NCAA men's soccer committee announced that Lynn will participate in the 2005 NCAA Men's Soccer Tournament next week.

The Knights, seeded second in the South Region tournament, will play Central Arkansas Friday today at 1:00 pm.

The winner will play host Saint Leo in the regional final on Sunday. The Knights, ranked eighth in the nation, will be making their seventh NCAA Tournament and 16th post-season appearance overall.

"This is a great achievement for Lynn University and its soccer program," said head coach Shaun Pendleton, the NCAA Division II all-time winningest men's soccer coach percentage-wise.

The Blue and White have faced both opponents in the South Region, posting a 1-1 record against the two teams. LU came back to defeat UCA 2-1 on Sept. 11.

Lynn lost to Saint Leo, 2-1 in overtime, on Oct. 22. The loss was the third in program history to the Lions. If the Knights make it past the Bears, they will be looking for redemption.

The winner of the South Region tournament hosts the victor of the Southeast Region tournament, Sunday Nov. 20 in quarterfinal action.

The semifinals and championship matches will be played December 2 and 4 at Midwestern State University in Wichita Falls, TX.*

2005-06 SSC Preseason Men's Basketball Poll

The NCAA men's soccer committee announced that Lynn will participate in the 2005 NCAA Men's Soccer Tournament next week.

The Knights, seeded second in the South Region tournament, will play Central Arkansas Friday today at 1:00 pm.

The winner will play host Saint Leo in the regional final on Sunday. The Knights, ranked eighth in the nation, will be making their seventh NCAA Tournament and 16th post-season appearance overall.

"This is a great achievement for Lynn University and its soccer program," said head coach Shaun Pendleton, the NCAA Division II all-time winningest men's soccer coach percentage-wise.

"Being the second seed is a nice way to end a long regular season. I think over the year we proved we deserved to get in by playing a tough regional schedule. This is also a great opportunity for our players to right some of the wrongs that happened late in the season."

The Complete Guide: Confidence. If you learn to drink, avoid the following sequences:

- Pre-Primary Math and Science. It was fun because I got to interact with kids.
  - Hannah Schaffer, Freshman

- Aviation history, because it has to do with my major which I love.
  - Maggie Cuthbert, Sophomore

- Psychology, because Dr. Seifer was a great teacher.
  - John Scripps, Sophomore

- Intro to Psychology. I had Dr. Scale who is really outgoing and cares a lot about his students.
  - Fabian Cornelli, Junior

A Group For Those Who Choose To Drink

Although drinking is illegal for students under 21, some still make the choice to drink.

Drinking safely is of the utmost importance in order to avoid the following consequences:

- Alcohol Poisoning
- Death and/or injury
- Suspended/revoked license
- Fines and/or jailtime
- Academic probations
- Relationship troubles
- Many more

When students learn to drive they may take a driver’s education course, but how do students learn to drink?

If you have made the choice to drink and would like to share information or participate in a group, please contact Gail DeCina, Substance Abuse Prevention and Treatment Specialist.

Stop in to the counseling center or by phone 561-237-7468 or email gdecina@lynn.edu.

All inquiries will be held in confidence.*
The Lynn volleyball team fell in three-straight games to No. 10 Florida Southern on Friday in SSC action.

The Moccasins took the match with scores of 30-28, 30-19 and 30-18 as the finish the season sweep over the Knights.

Senior setter Jessica Woodby dished up 25 assists, while also collecting six digs.

At the net, junior Carissa Erath had a game-high five blocks, while also knocking down one kill.

Freshman Erin Lyngse added three blocks and six kills for the Knights.

On Sunday the team fell in a five-game match, losing to SSC foe Rollins College by the score of 3-2.

Daniels tallied her team-leading 14th double-double performance of the season by adding 12 digs to her stat line.

Lynn will hold its celebration for the 2005 NCAA Division II National Championship softball team today.

The university will begin festivities at 12:30 pm in the Student Center Cafeteria where Athletic Director John McCarthy will present the Knights with their National Championship rings.

The softball team will then be recognized later in the evening at halftime of the men's basketball season opener where they will play against Palm Beach Atlantic.

The school will unveil the 2005 NCAA Division II National Championship banner during this halftime event. Tonight's basketball game will start at 7:30 pm.

The experiences that Codiga has with her teammates are something that she is very grateful for. She says that her teammates are there for her "through the bad, good, happy, and sad moments."

Softball Celebration
2005 Team Awarded as National Champions
By Jen Zakany

Yesterday Lynn held a celebration for the 2005 NCAA Division II National Championship softball team in the cafeteria during lunch.

Dedication Today
In Honor of Aivaras Balzekas

The memorial bench in honor of student-athlete Aivaras Balzekas’ memory will be dedicated today at 4:00 pm.

The blue bench with bronze inscription is placed near tennis court #1.

The dedication will include a dedication benediction given by Father Deveraux, speeches given by tennis athletes, the Lithuanian national anthem, Chinese appetizers, and items given out in memory of Balzekas.

The Balzekas family will receive a plaque with the matching bench inscription:

Aivaras Balzekas

Mortal Kombat: Shaolin Monks

Mortal Kombat: Shaolin Monks takes the series to an action-adventure game. Immediately players are pulled into the game through a cinematic performance of battling characters.

New combos and deadly weapons make finishing off opponents a lot of fun.

The best aspect of the game is the co-op mode.

There are many extras, such as secret characters, movies, art, and a game.

This game is the crème de la crème of the series, and it is a great buy for fans.

Pre-Season Pleasantries
The Knights were chosen as the preseason favorites to win the Sunshine State Conference.

Last year the Knights captured their first win the Sunshine State Conference.

The men's basketball team is 11-1 all-time in season openers, while scoring a total of 957 total points.

The winner of this match will travel to Wichita Falls, Texas, to participate in the NCAA Tournament Semifinals against the winner of the Fort Lewis/Cal-State Dominguez Hills game.

"Lander has had a difficult schedule like us," Pendelton said. "They've played some big games and did more than we had to do last week, being a number three seed and winning on the road. We know they have a lot of experienced and international players, just as we do."

Lynn University's trip to the Elite Eight included a 7-1 victory against No. 1 Central Arkansas, their worst defeat in program history, and a 3-1 win against host No. 2 Saint Leo. Senior midfielder Chris Knox tied NCAA Tournament records for assists in a game.

The Knights boast eight players with double-digit points and seven players with four or more goals. Headlining that list is Lee Paul Scroggins, a unanimous First Team All-Sunshine State Conference selection.

Knights defense players Lee Porter, Leon Jackson, Nino Short, Courtney Rimmer and David Bern have shown they are up to the test against Player of the Year candidates.

The defensive unit held SSC Player/Offensive Player of the Year Asmir Pervan and Freshman of the Year Eusebio Montoya to only two shots on net in second round match-up.

The winner of this match will travel to Wichita Falls, Texas, to participate in the NCAA Tournament Semifinals against the winner of the Fort Lewis/Cal-State Dominguez Hills game.

On Knight Radio
DJ/ Angel Rocks The Radio
By Michael Jacobs

Jessica Bernstein, aka DJ Angel, hosts a music show every Thursday night from 5:00 pm - 7:30 pm.

Bernstein enjoys playing mostly rock music, including both classic and current tracks. She also mixes her set up with a little bit of pop and hip-hop.

Bernstein is a 21-year-old junior at Lynn from New York City, and she is majoring in International Communications with a Specialization in Documentary Film. She is interested in pursuing a career in film and music.

“DJ Angel" is also one of the few female disc jockeys to host a show on Knight Radio.

When Bernstein listens to the airwaves, she blasts hard rock on the local stations.

“DJ Angel" would like to say hello to her listeners and friends.

Tune in tonight and every Thursday for your fill of rock-and-roll with DJ Angel."
Basketball Team Rolls Past PBA
Men's Basketball Team Wins 101-65 In Opener
By Sara Quatrichy

The No. 10 Lynn men's basketball team rolled past Palm Beach Atlantic in its season opener home game by the score of 101-65.

The Knights (1-0) had six players score in double-digits as they shot 50.7 percent from the field. Junior Jasper McDuffus led Lynn with 15 points, adding 14 rebounds for the double-double.

"It felt good to finally play a game here at home in front of the fans and it was a great atmosphere," said McDuffus.

Junior Andrew Smith was tops on the squad in scoring with 16 points as he came off the bench.

Senior Sheldon Edwards finished the night with 12 points and eight rebounds. Senior Marcus Hayes finished the game with 13 points and 7 rebounds, while connecting on two free-throws ending the Knights' highest lead of the game on a 3-point bucket to extend the score 46-26 first half lead, the Knights in the first five minutes of the game.

Senior Evan Cohn gave Lynn its biggest lead of the game on a 3-point arch, pushing the score to 82-42. Cohn finished the game with three assists and two steals, while connecting on two free-throws ending the game with 5 points.

Sophomore Hans Schur had a career night as he knocked down 12 points and brought down a career-high seven boards and dished out two assists.

"My confidence level has definitely risen from my rookie year because of the success we had as a team last season. With this core group of guys back from last year's team and the new players that Coach [McMillin] brought in, we are learning to play together still, so the best is yet to come," Schur said.

Hayes finished the game with 15 points and 7 rebounds, while shooting 6-of-11 from the field. Junior James Cape, the Knights' Preseason All-America selection, had 15 points while dishing out five assists and grabbing three rebounds.

"A lot of people stepped up tonight and we started seeing the chemistry that we could make as a team. We still have some work to do heading into our tournament this weekend because we need to cut down on our turnovers and work harder on the boards," Cape said.

The Knights will return to action this week as they will host the Pepsi Tip-Off Classic at home. Lynn will first battle with Puerto Rico-Cayey at 7:30 pm on Friday and will finish up with North Carolina Central at 7:30 pm on Saturday.

Season Starts With Victory
Women's Basketball Defeats FL Memorial 63-51
By Chad Beattie

For the second consecutive year, the Lynn women's basketball team opened its season with a win.

The Blue and White defeated Florida Memorial 63-51 behind solid offensive performances from Jackie Codiga and Megan Osmer. The duo combined for 35 points, 16 rebounds and three blocks while Allegre Armstrong tied her career-high for rebounds with 13.

"This was a very tough game for the first game of the season," said head coach Pam DeCosta, who improves to 2-1 on opening night.

"These kids can practice all day long but the game is a little different story when the lights come on. We got down by a couple of buckets but our girls were mentally tough to come back, run their offense and execute." The Knights played from behind until 13 minutes remained in the first half when four ties and eight lead changes ensued over the next eight minutes.

Lynn built a 4 point lead with Makina Waye's jump shot. Osmer hit her first career three-point shot and Codiga hit one of two free throws as time expired to put LU up by 4 going into the half.

Codiga put the Knights up by six in the second half.

A 15-foot jumper by Osmer put the Knights up 51-49. Lynn proceeded to go on a 14-2 run to close out the game and give itself a 12-point victory.

"I think we were nervous in the beginning, but we played here last year, we knew the atmosphere, and we just toughed it out," said Osmer, who finished with 17 points, 7 boards and 3 blocks while attempting a team-high 10 free-throws.

"Like I said, if my team or I went aggressive to the net that the referees would call it. I worked on my free-throws all summer and even though I missed some, I hit them when we needed them most." Codiga grabbed 18 points and nine boards while newcomer Krystal Perry grabbed nine boards. Lisa Sykor also chipped in 10 points on 6-of-6 shooting from the line. Marissa Davenport led the Fighting Lions with 11 points. The Knights held the Lions to 31.7% shooting from the floor and only 10.5% from three-point range.

The event took place in the festively decorated Student Center Courtyard.

The night was a success, and all of those who attended are “ready to rumba” again at the next OLAS event.*
Injuries and setbacks are a thing of the past while hope and high expectations are in place for the 2005-06 Lynn University women’s basketball team.

The Knights return their entire team, including two injured players, and welcome three new additions.

A year after winning the most games since 2001-02, equaling the amount of wins the past two years combined and winning the second most SSC games in program history, this is a team that can only improve.

Lest opponents forget the Blue and White played a significant amount of games with only six healthy players and lost six games by 10 points or less.

The Knights played only three games with their full roster, going 2-1, and eight games with their top-two scorers, going 6-2.

With a full arsenal at their disposal the Knights will be kings of the round table this season.

"After finishing last season the way we did, in such a limited capacity, to us it was a success," said head coach Pam DeCosta, who is 17-38 in two seasons.

Now, having the number of players we do and getting two of our players back from injury, we can go as far as we want to go and there are no more excuses for us.

Our expectations are high and everyone left last season with the same thoughts: getting stronger, getting better and coming back to show everyone what should have been.

We have a lot of kids that are coming back that are better players and we’re anxious to get back on the floor."*

Alexandra, or Alex, Acosta is a 19-year-old Miami native who has been playing sports for years.

Acosta loves being a part of a winning team, and that is exactly what she is a part of. Acosta is on the Lynn softball team, who was recently honored for its championship in a ceremony at lunch.

The Lynn softball team is the 2005 NCAA Division II National Champions team.

By combining seriousness and a great sense of humor, Acosta is able to be successful in her leadership role on the team.

Acosta is the team’s shortstop and the guide of the infield, and often you will see her in the field with a smile on her face.

Acosta feels that her positive attitude has been a key to her success both on the field and off.

On the field she believes that her defense is what helps her to be a great, well-rounded player.

As for weaknesses on the field, Acosta says they are “non-existent.”

After her first year of collegiate game play, Acosta believes the most important thing is to repeat the National Championship title that the softball team has earned.

Acosta believes that athletes are considered influential individuals on campus. “I think people on campus respect all athletes because they understand how difficult it is to balance athletics and academics,” said Acosta.

Acosta is a Criminal Justice major who is continuing her academic and athletic career here at Lynn. She is training hard now and getting ready for the upcoming softball season.*

A Student Profile of Virginia Couch
By Nicole Walsh
Virginia Couch is a 19-year-old transfer student from Houston College in Houston, Texas. Couch is a Business Administration major with a specialization in Fashion Management.

Couch is interested in all aspects of the fashion industry, although her favorite aspect is design. Couch believes that in fashion design, designers are able to express and share their individual creativity.

After graduating, Couch desires to pursue a career in fashion design. When Couch gets a break from her studies, she travels. Last summer she took a three-week trip to Kenya, Africa. There she toured with groups of other Americans into the wilderness to meet with local tribes and to learn about their culture.

In Kenya Couch helped build schools for the children. She said that this trip taught her not to take anything for granted, and she learned this from the natives who were extremely appreciative of everything that Couch and the group she was with did for their homes and village.

Couch said, “I know how the littlest things I can do for others can make the biggest difference in their lives, and I’ll never forget that.”

Daniels Awarded
SSC & All-South Region
By Sara Quatrocchi

Lynn senior Theresa Daniels was named First Team All-Sunshine State Conference and Second Team All-South Region this week representing the Knights volleyball.

The outside hitter is just the seventh player in program history listed among the All-SSC honorees and she’s the first to earn a spot on the first team. Daniels is also the first-ever All-Region selection in Lynn volleyball history.

The Sunrise, Fla. native finished the season leading the sse in kills per game, spiking 4.51 per contest. Daniels had 397 total kills in her senior season, finishing with 1,218 in her four-year career which places her second on in Lynn history.

"These are great honors for Theresa and our program," head coach Ginny Kelly said. "Theresa worked very hard to elevate her individual game this year and her hard work paid off. I hope these are the first of many honors to come to this program."

The Knights completed their second season with Kelly at the helm as they finished 10-13 overall and 5-9 in the SSC.

Men's Soccer Advances to NCAA Semifinals
Team Overpowers Lander and Wins 8-0
By Chad Beattie

Two goals in the first 15 minutes set the tone for a long day as Lynn's men's soccer team overpowered Lander 8-0 in the NCAA Division II Quarterfinals on Saturday afternoon.

Seven different members of the Blue and White scored, while Lee Paul Scroggins tied an NCAA record for goals in a tournament with six. Lynn will face the winner of the Cal-State Dominguez Hills/Fort Lewis match in Wichita Falls, Texas.

"We've had a difficult season with hurricanes and injuries and these boys have gone through a lot," said head coach Shaun Pendleton. "But once we have our main squad put together, we're a pretty good team... We're just very thankful to represent Lynn University and the Sunshine State Conference in the final four."

The Knights came out of the gates very aggressive, with Carl Wallace notching their first goal just eight and a half minutes into the game.

The Freshman Alessandro Salvatore from Austin, Texas scored his first goal in the 87th minute, heading in a pass from Kenneth Vquez on the back post.

The Knights defensive unit of Porter, Nano Short, Leon Jackson, Courtneym Rimmer and David Benn held the Bearcats to only three shots on goal in the second half.

Scroggins put Lynn up 5-0 when his free kick in the 49th minute bent around a four man wall 25-yards out to the far post. That goal gave the junior midfielder six for the NCAA Tournament, tying the record held by Nimrod Dreyfuss and Andrew Ziener.

"It was nice to get the penalty kick and then go up 2-0," said Scroggins. "The boys played well, we created a lot of chances and we were especially solid in the back."

Special Edition: Academic Adventure Day

Today FYE classes are participating in a special Academic Adventure day.

Everyone is welcome to join the adventure today in the cafeteria. There will be contests and Central American/Caribbean food.

Student-created posters will be judged today, and prizes will be awarded on the Academic Adventure 2006 trip in January.
Women's Basketball Win
beats Puerto Rico 87-37
By Chad Beattie

A supreme defensive effort by the Lynn women’s basketball team earned the Knights an 87-37 victory against Puerto-Rico Cayey last Saturday. LU opened the season 2-0 for the second consecutive year.

"Defense is something that we live by and tonight our defense was ok," said head coach Pam DeCosta, whose team forced 46 turnovers. "This team is learning to be mentally tough and finish what they started."

Osmer and Williams combined for 12 points during the run. Osmer led all scorers with 21 points and 17 rebounds.

Senior guard Makina Waye finished the half 6-of-6 from the field for 13 points.

"I just went out there and tried to have some fun tonight," Waye said.

Lynn held Puerto Rico to 22.7% for the game. Jade Williams led the team with nine second half points as the freshman point guard rebounded from a tough first game to drop a career-high 17 points.

Jackie Codiga finished 6-of-15 from the field for 14 points and six rebounds.

Senior Sheldon Edwards’ double-double helped lift the No. 10 Lynn men’s basketball team to an 88-56 victory on Nov. 18 in the opening game of the Pepsi Tip-Off Classic.

The Knights got 16 points and 10 rebounds from Edwards as he notches double-figure points for the second-straight contest.

"We did okay tonight in the win, but we still have to work on our chemistry as a team," Edwards said. "We still have to focus on getting better because we have some tough games in the near future."

Junior Jasper McDuffus got his second consecutive double-double with 10 points and 10 rebounds. Senior Marcus Hayes scored 17 points and 7 assists. Evan Cohn finished with 2 points and 6 assists. Senior Chris Temple finished with eight points and a game-high 11 rebounds.

Senior Marcus Hayes led all scorers with 23 points, 7 assists, 6 rebounds, and 2 steals. Senior Sheldon Edwards and junior Andrew Smith each finished the game with 11 points.

I know my job on this team is to play defense and [...] grab rebounds on the defensive and offensive end of the floor," Temple said.

The Knights jumped out to a quick 9-0 lead in the first four minutes of the game, not allowing PR-Cayey to score until the 15:45 mark.

After halftime, the Knights extended the lead to 49-27. Hans Schur scored 8 points in the final period and James Cage scored 12 points, grabbed 5 boards, 4 assists, and 3 steals.

Sophomore Hans Schur rallied the No. 10 Lynn University men’s basketball team to a 72-61 victory over North Carolina Central in the final game of the Pepsi Tip-Off Classic.

Schur scored 8 of his 13 points in the second half. For the third-straight game the Knights shot over 50 percent from the floor, finishing the game with a 50.9 percentage.

"I know that I need to step up, especially with our injury situation (James Cage), and I think that not just myself, but many others came up with some big plays down the stretch," Schur said.

Senior Marcus Hayes led all scorers with 23 points, 7 assists, 6 rebounds, and 2 steals. Senior Sheldon Edwards and junior Andrew Smith each finished the game with 11 points.

Sophomore Evan Cohn gave the Knights their largest lead of the night with eight minutes remaining to play, at 55-47. In a game that saw eight ties and eight lead changes, the Knights took control the rest of the way.

Cohn chipped in with 8 points in the victory and dished out 7 assists, while also taking away 2 steals. Senior Chris Temple grabbed 4 boards and added 2 points.

Lynn dropped its first game of the season last Wednesday as Arkansas-Monticello Weevils won their first game of the year by the score of 74-61.

The Knights shot just 40.4 percent from the floor, their lowest output of the season. Senior Marcus Hayes led the Knights with 14 points and added a game-high 4 steals in the defensive effort.

The Weevils took a 32-25 lead into the lockerroom.

Schur knocked down 12 points in the loss for his fourth-straight game in double-figures, adding 3 rebounds and 2 steals. He shot 5-of-7 from the field, for a team-high 69 percent shooting this season.
