Welcome to Lynn's Sea-Going Campus

As you prepare to set sail for seven days of sun-filled fun and academics aboard the M/S Triumph, you become part of Lynn University's fourth Academic Adventure.

This year, our ports of call include excursions in Cozumel, Mexico to the ancient ruins of the Mayan city of Tulum, a visit with the stingrays in Grand Cayman and a great climb in Ocho Rios, Jamaica, birthplace of reggae and home to dramatic Dunns Falls.

Various shipboard academic activities will keep your mind engaged and there'll be plenty of time for deck-top fun including swimming in one of the M/S Triumph's four pools as the 893-foot ship, themed the Great Cities of the World, cruises Caribbean waters.

Stay in Contact
Send emails from the Triumph

Did you know? You can keep in contact with your parents and friends aboard ship? For this cruise, Lynn University has setup an email address for parents to contact students on the trip. Students may also respond to these emails on board.

The email address is adventure@lynnuniversity.edu

Please make sure the emails have the person's name in the subject line so they can be delivered promptly.

Video, Pictures and More
The ePulse at Sea

Be sure to read the daily ePulse-At-Sea newspaper, delivered right to your cabin. Look for pictures of your friends and news about the upcoming day's events.

The ePulse at Sea is also available online for your family and friends on shore to keep track of your activities. In addition to pictures and information, daily videos will be posted. From swimming with the Stingrays to climbing the falls in Jamaica, your family and friends will feel like part of the trip.

A Look Back at the Fall 2005 Semester
A Pictorial Remembrance of the Activities on Campus

2006 has arrived, and a new semester has begun here at Lynn. Students return this week to new classes and old friends as the Spring Semester is finally here.

All of us at the iPulse would like to welcome back all of the returning students this semester, and would like to extend a warm welcome to all new students who will be joining us this Spring.

We’re looking forward to a great semester here at the iPulse and throughout all campus classes and organizations.

Fall of 2005 was a season of growth and change for the university and its students. We breathed a sigh of relief when the hurricanes finally passed, and when we finally got through our exams.

Throughout the struggles of the semester, wonderful memories were made as students joined in activities on campus.

With this issue of the iPulse we invite you to look back on some of the great activities that took place during the Fall 2005 Semester.

Be sure to check out the iPulse this semester as we bring you all of the latest daily news on campus.

I look forward to all that we will bring you this semester with the paper, and invite you to contact me with your opinions, ideas, or editorials that you’d like to share.

Please send your e-mails to ipulse@lynnuniversity.net.

Happy New Year to all of you, and have a wonderful semester.

If you have a club or organization and would like your meetings and events to be announced in the iPulse, please e-mail ipulse@lynnuniversity.net.

Be sure to get your announcements in the iPulse! Send your e-mail today!*

The Association for Women in Communications
By Diana Palucca

How much do you think a chapter of the Association for Women in Communications at Lynn could benefit your education and professional career?

The growing numbers of the organization speak for its benefits. The association has gone from seven female students at the University of Washington to more than 4,000 active nationwide members with 7,500 professional communicators.

I believe there are too many women in communications who go unnoticed as professionals, even though women make up more than half of the population in the world.

This has influenced us to start a chapter of the Association for Women in Communications here at Lynn. It is open to all undergraduate and graduate students who want to develop leadership skills, build strong networks, and have fun in a prestigious association.

The Association for Women in Communications (AWC) allows members to meet professional women in the communications fields and to have access to job openings, which are important factors that can open many doors in the future.

Students interested in improving their professional skills, sharing ideas with other students and learning to recognize and promote women in communications should come to the first meeting of Lynn’s AWC chapter Saturday, Jan. 28.

This meeting will allow students to become a member of the organization, learn something new, or to simply have some fun with other students.

Stop by and see what AWC is all about. Everyone is welcome.

The official website for the AWC is www.womcom.org.

Lynn’s softball team was picked to finish third in the Sunshine State Conference in the 2006 Preseason Poll.

The Knights, who were the NCAA Division II National Champions last season, have reloading their roster in hopes of repeating as conference champs.

“The poll that matters the most is the one at the end of the season and we hope to be right in the mix for the title again,” head coach Cherene Hiniel, who will begin her collegiate coaching career this season with the Knights, said.

The Knights return seven players from their national championship team and will welcome eight newcomers to the roster to help defend their conference and national titles.

Look out for Junior Christina Rulla, Sophomore Danielle Cucio, and Junior Vanessa Becerra to make headlines this season.

Be sure to see the Knights open up their season with a doubleheader home game against Northwood on Feb. 2 at 1:00 pm.

Hayes is the Knights’ top scorer this season, and was honored as the SSC Player of the Week in November.

The National Association of Basketball Coaches announced its annual Honor’s Court this week, recognizing collegiate basketball students who excelled in academics and athletics during the 04-05 school year.

Senior Marcus Hayes and former graduates Austin Faber and James Taylor were among the honored list of student-athletes with a 3.2 GPA or higher.

The Honor’s Court recognizes the talents and gifts of men’s basketball players in the classroom.

“It’s always nice to get honored in the classroom because all of our players work really hard on and off the court. This is a great recognition,” head coach Scott McMillin said.

Faber and Taylor graduated from Lynn in May 2005 after both players completed a four-year career in the Blue and White. Fab was Lynn’s all-time leader in assists, and Taylor was the Knights’ all-time leading scorer.

Andrew Smith was named the Sunshine State Conference Men’s Basketball Player of the Week Monday by the Orlando-based league office.

The junior guard averaged 17.5 points, 9.0 assists, 7.0 rebounds and 3.5 steals per game as the Knights remained the only unbeaten men’s team in SSC play.

“This is a great honor, but the most important thing is that we are continuing to win,” Smith said.

Smith’s 12 assists in the game against Saint Leo last week matched a program record set in 1993, while his points and rebounds both matched career highs.

Senior Sheldon Edwards was awarded SSC Player of the Week on January 8.

“We still have a lot of tough games left and I just hope that I can be consistent in helping this team,” Smith said.

“The next couple of games are at home in front of our fans so we need to make sure we take care of business.”

Women of Valor
The Women of Lynn and Their Role Models
By Colleen D. Collins

Ruth Benedict, an American anthropologist and author of several classic texts, is a model of inspiration. In the early 1900’s, Benedict attended Columbia University at a time when women were not encouraged to attend college.

She earned her PhD, studying under Franz Boas, and later became a professor. Boas was both a mentor and a role model to Benedict.

Benedict noted the importance of her role model when she said, "I long to speak out the intense inspiration that comes to me from the lives of strong women." Here at Lynn there are women pursuing their dreams and goals, and they too have had role models who serve as a source of inspiration. Here are some of their stories.

Joan Scialli, Coordinator, PhD Program College of Business and Management

I came to Lynn in order to work with the former Provost of Lynn, Dr. Jennifer Braaten.

She encouraged creativity and risk-taking, and to rise to challenges. Dr. Braaten was always compassionate and enabling when help was needed.

Judith Ahsdorf, Graduate Research Librarian

My own mom, Virginia Ahsdorf was an incredibly strong lady who recognized my love for books and encouraged me to pursue a career in libraries. She passed away at the age of 80 having lived a rich and full life.

Erika Cukierman, Executive Communications Coordinator, Office of the President

My mother is my role model. She is a wonderful, wise, and successful woman.

She manages to bring the light out of any situation and has influenced me to make the right choices in life, while reminding me what is really important.

Debbie Stern, Writer/Editor, Office of Marketing and Communication

My mother is my role model. She is extremely knowledgeable, and graduated from Douglas College in 1945 at a time when it was very unusual for a woman to pursue higher education. She reads the NY Times from cover to cover every day. That’s probably why I can’t begin my day until after I’ve read a newspaper.

Gotta Have Great Gadgets

Mustek®

Steve Jobs and his venerable iPod have long dominated the MP3 player market through innovation and stylish marketing.

Other products have never had a chance, but now Apple’s iPod might have met its match.

Mustek has come out with a new "portable media player" called the H-160.

With 60 GB of memory and a screen size of 3.6 inches in diameter, viewing is much more comfortable than with the smaller video iPod screen.

Great features include the ability to play multiple video formats or record from TV and DVD, which allows freedom that iTunes prevents users from having.

Another nice feature is the built-in speaker that allows you to use the player without headphones. This is great because the screen is big enough for more than one person to watch.

Finally, a real contender to the Video iPod! The Mustek H-160 is available for around $450.

Student Activities Fair
Student Organizations On Campus
By Crystal Burdine

Lynn held its bi-annual Activities Fair in the Student Center Courtyard yesterday afternoon.

The fair gave campus clubs an opportunity to provide students with more information about their organizations.

Several students attended the Activities Fair, many of them signing up for the various clubs that were present, such as Best Buddies, KAT, Tri Sigma, Alpha Phi Delta, Black Student Union, and RHA.

Is the Activities Fair a success? There seems to be a mixed response from the student organization leaders that were present.

Matt Rubin, a member of the Alpha Phi Delta fraternity, says that while the Activities Fair does an "all right" job, it would be more effective if it were a social gathering with refreshments.

Lynn student Allan Roche said that the best part about the Activities Fair was that it helped make students aware of what clubs Lynn has to offer, and that it gives the organizations a chance to promote and recruit.

Student Brandon Ackerman summed up the event by saying that it was just "good fun."*

Softball Team Eager to Defend Title
2006 Season Preview for the NCAA Division II National Champs
By Sara Quatrocly

After capturing the programs' first-ever NCAA Division II National Championship last season as well as claiming their first-ever (SSC) conference title, the softball team is eager to get back on the field to defend its title.

This season the Knights not only welcome eight new-comers to the roster but also a new head coach in Cherene Hies!, who is confident there will be a smooth transition.

Pitching
Returning sophomore Rachelle Foster will take over as the Knights' top pitcher after posting a 14-4 record in her first season.

"Rachel has a great mound presence and she is talented enough to take over and guide us in the right direction," Hies! said.

Freshmen Khristy Salorio and Cristina Kelly will also be pitching this season.

Infield
Junior Christina Rolla will be the leader at first base.

"After a season like Christine had last season, she's proved that she is an exceptional player," Hies! said. "We will definitely look for her to be the voice in the infield."

Sophomore Candice Vander Veen and Junior Heather Tucker look to play third base. Freshman Meghan Osbourne will be playing second base, and Ashley Byrd will be shortstop. Freshman Ashley Burns will also be used in the infield.

"One thing is for sure, defensively we are stacked," Hies! said.

Outfield
Sophomore Danielle Curcio will resume duties in centerfield. Senior Jenna Piotrowski will play right field. Stephanie Kelley, Lia Jahnke, and Alicia Tardugno will be in the outfield.

Schedule
The Knights will tune up against Northwood, opening their season on Feb. 2 before hosting FGCU on Feb. 4 in regional action.

"Our first goal is to repeat as conference championships so we need to [...] continue to improve at all of the little things," Hies! said. "We have good pitching and defense and that is what will win us a lot of ball games this season."

Catchers
Junior transfer Vanessa Becerra will make an immediate impact behind the plate. Byrd will also see time at the catching position this season.

BSU Chill & Grill
A Barbeque Bash By Black Student Union
By Brittany Bialowas

On Wednesday BSU threw a barbeque for Lynn students in order to promote membership for their club.

Faison Kahindo, BSU President Nehemie Exy, and Udo Lekumbe

The club's message is that this is a club open to all students. President Nehemie Exy stated, “We want people to know that it's for everybody.”

With the long line of students waiting for food and great music supplied by Lynn's newest club, Tailgate Team “Chill N' Grill,” it was clear that this barbeque was a hit.

Interested students should attend meetings which are held every Friday at 4:00 pm in the Knights Court.

At The Movies
Tristan & Isolde
By Brittany Bialowas

“Tristan & Isolde” is a film about a classic medieval legend of love between a princess and a warrior.

This love affair places the peace of England and Ireland in jeopardy as English knight Tristan wins the heart of Princess Isolde, daughter of the Irish King.

The two then face the harsh reality of living a secret in order to maintain the peace between the two countries; however, their deep passion to be with one another gets the best of them.

Overall, this film is truly a great love story that is both well written and well directed. It is surely a tale that will stay with you after you leave.

Brittany's Rating: * (4 out of 5 stars)

Fashion Files
That's Hot
By Brit Davis

The women of Lynn always sport the latest trends in fashion, and if you want to know what "The Look" of the season is, all you have to do is look around campus.

With all of the styles that have come and gone during this school year, a few remain a constant with Lynn girls, and these "looks" are still fabulous.

Juicy Couture is a huge fad at Lynn because the outfits are both relaxing and stylish. These comfortable jacket/pant combos are a must-have here on campus.

Seven (7) jeans are a constantly worn jean by the women on campus. They are versatile and always stylish with any top.

The "preppy" look is always present on campus, and Ralph Lauren Polo shirts are worn daily. These shirts aren't going anywhere any time soon.

Send your e-mail today to get your event published in the iPulse.

The Residence Life department attended the Florida Resident Assistant Seminar this past weekend.

More than 425 student leaders from 28 universities attended the event.

The Lynn delegation won third place in the kick-off event, a traditional roll call which allows each school to introduce their delegation in a creative manner through music, dancing, skits, etc.

Hats off to the RAs for a job well done! The RAs also attended sessions on a variety of educational and social topics to help them become better student leaders.

Concerned Friends Group

A number of students have expressed concern about friends who may have a drinking and/or other drug problem.

As a result of their friend's drinking and/or drug use they have felt stress; this is known as second hand effect of substance abuse.

Is this how you've defined your college experience?

Have you experienced this second-hand effect?

If you have and want to be a part of a support group where you can get information on how to help a friend, please contact Gail DeCina, Substance Abuse Prevention and Treatment Specialist.

Stop in at the Counseling Center, phone 561-237-7468, or email at gdecina@lynn.edu.

All inquiries will be held in confidence.

The Winning Streak Continues

Men's Basketball Beats FL Tech 86-59, Giving 7th Consecutive Victory

By Sara Quatrocky

We continued to just play our game tonight and we came away with another win in conference," Smith stated.

The men's basketball team won its seventh straight game on Wednesday night with an 86-59 victory over Florida Tech.

The Knights had five players knock down at least 10 points in their 17th straight victory against the Panthers.

Senior Sheldon Edwards led the way with 18 points in his eighth consecutive double-figure scoring game.

Sophomore Evan Cohn had a career high 11 assists and 14 points while junior Andrew Smith threw down 12 points and a perfect 4-4 shooting career high.

Sophomore Hans Schur put up 11 points and 11 rebounds.

"Once again my teammates did a great job of posting up and getting open to finish on my assists."

The Knights came out at the second half and took the lead to a score of 66-36 in the first 10 minutes, adding 22 points in that time.

The Knights never allowed the Panthers to come within 20 points and remained perfect in SSC action.

The Knights continued scoring and took a 44-24 lead into the locker room at half.

Mozart Memorial Musical
Conservatory of Music Celebrates Musician’s Birthday
By Brett Samuels

Mozart’s 250th birthday did not go unnoticed Friday night as the Lynn Conservatory of Music played a selection of Mozart’s beautiful music at the Amarnick-Goldstein Concert Hall.

There were 3 groups of musicians who played a very full and enthusiastic crowd, and each group played a different piece by Mozart.

The musicians who performed are as follows: Christina Burr, Brandie Philips, Ralph Fielding, David Cole, Paul Green, Lisa Leonard, Jon Robertson, and Sergiu Schwartz.

Mozart would have been proud to hear this concert, and the faculty, students, and audience certainly were.

The Logitech Harmony 880
Logitech has created a user-friendly universal remote called the Harmony 880.

To program the remote, simply connect it to a computer using a supplied USB cable, and select what features you want the remote to have.

The remote’s full-color LCD screen makes use easy and efficient. The system is compatible with multiple electronic devices.

If I want to watch television at home, I have to turn on my cable box, television, and tuner. With the Harmony 880, I simply select the “Watch TV” button.

Worried about battery usage? Don’t be. The remote charges up like a cell phone when you aren’t using it. Bonus? You always know where it is!

The Logitech Harmony 880 remote is available at Circuit City and other electronics retailers for about $250.

Lynn’s Hottest: Mizner Park Bachelor Pad
By David Hunter

Vincent Tona, Blake Sand, and Matt Hunt, all from New York, are living large in their 2300 sq. ft. Mizner Park penthouse apartment in Boca Raton.

This bachelor pad is like a different world. A well-equipped fitness center and sauna are located merely steps away from the penthouse suite, and a private pool on the roof deck gives panoramic views of the Atlantic Ocean.

The interior décor is understated elegance and pure sophistication.

Each room is filled with huge and lavish bedroom furniture.

Tona can be seen driving a silver 350z with 19 inch Volk GT-Cs and an assortment of stereo upgrades.

Sand drives a World Rally blue STi that runs 11 seconds in the quarter mile.

These guys are doing it big and loving every single minute of it.*

Women’s Basketball

Team Falls to Eckerd: 57-48
By Chad Beattie

A 12-point first half lead was erased minutes into the second half as the women’s basketball team fell at home by the score of 57-48 to Eckerd.

Lisa Sykora scored a season-high 14 points, while Megan Osmer and Jackie Codiga combined for 24 rebounds. Lynn falls to 9-9 overall and 4-4 in the Sunshine State Conference.

The Blue and White led by 12 points with 8:38 remaining in the first half after Sykora drained her third three-pointer of the game.

A three-point shot by Cherise George at the end of the first half gave the team momentum going into the half, and they came off strong in the second half until the Tritons went on a 19-7 run. Gattuso scored five points and Brett Stone scored four during the 12 minute stretch.

Osmer and Codiga grabbed 13 and 11 boards respectively while both Makina Waye and Jade Williams notched four assists. Gattuso, the SSC’s leading scorer, led all players with 24 points.*

The Tritons allowed Lynn just two field-goals in the final six minutes of action.

Seven-Game Streak Ceases

Men’s Basketball Loses 66-59 to Eckerd
By Sara Quatrocky

The men’s basketball team’s seven-game winning streak came to an end Saturday when they lost 66-59 to the Eckerd Tritons.

Junior Andrew Smith led the Knights with 13 points as Lynn had four players score in double-figures.

Finishing the night shooting 40 percent from the floor, this was Lynn’s the lowest team percentage in the last nine games.

Senior Sheldon Edwards was one rebound shy of his team-leading ninth double-double with 10 points and nine rebounds.

Senior Marcus Hayes added 12 points and four assists for Lynn.*
