A Note from the Dean

On behalf of the music faculty, staff, and students I would like to thank you for your steadfast loyalty and enthusiastic support of the performances presented by the Harid Conservatory School of Music at Lynn University this season.

It has been a pivotal year in the history of the music Conservatory. With the acquisition of the music program by Lynn University, many new and exciting possibilities have presented themselves. The 1999-2000 academic year witnessed a fresh connection to the community with the birth of a Music Preparatory, which is providing education for children and adults, under the direction of Dr. Claudio Jaffe. This summer the Pine Tree Music Specialty Camp is being launched and within a few weeks of its announcement, it reached capacity enrollment.

Through a major gift from Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Amarnick and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Goldstein, we will enjoy the opening of a new facility for music on the Lynn University campus—the Amarnick Goldstein Concert Hall. This 220-seat premier theater in the deHoernle International Center, is scheduled to open in October 2000 and will serve as a permanent recital facility for School of Music performances.

A limited number of seats are still available as part of Lynn University’s “Take A Seat” program. I invite you to take advantage of this exciting opportunity to name a seat that will bear your name, family name, or honor/memorialize a friend or loved one for a contribution of only $1,000. Additional information is available in the lobby.

We look forward to greeting you in the fall for another season of memorable music making. On behalf of the musicians and the University, I hope you will enjoy a happy and healthy summer.

Warmest wishes,

Roberta Rust

Performance Sponsorship

The Harid Conservatory School of Music at Lynn University is proud to acknowledge the generosity of our good friends, Daniel and Shirlee Cohen Freed. We are delighted to thank the Freeds for their generous sponsorship of tonight's Philharmonia performance in honor of Maestro Arthur Weisberg and Mr. Sergiu Schwartz.

Performance sponsorship provides an opportunity for friends of the Conservatory to:

- Support our goal to set a superior standard for music performance education worldwide
- Enable us to continue to provide high-quality, professional performance education for our gifted young musicians
- Support the artistic growth of our students as we prepare them for leadership performance opportunities on the world's concert stages
- Continue to bring the gift of music into the lives of south Florida residents and visitors

We salute Dan and Shirlee Freed, whose vision and dedication have created so many wonderful opportunities for the students and faculty at the Conservatory and whose generosity, we hope, will inspire others to invest in one of Florida's brightest gems: The Harid Conservatory School of Music at Lynn University.

Please feel free to contact the Development Office at (561) 237-7947 for further information about participating in sponsorship opportunities, annual fund, endowment and planned giving.

The above contributions to the Harid Conservatory School of Music at Lynn University have been received since July 1, 1999.
About Tonight’s World Premiere (by Arthur Weisberg)

I wrote this Concerto during the months of July and August, 1996. It was written for Sergiu Schwartz, my colleague from the Conservatory.

I wanted to write a work that would compliment and exploit his special attributes, which I perceive to be particularly in the area of Romantic music,

Writing a “Romantic” concerto at the end of the 20th Century presented a fascinating challenge. To me, “Romantic” implies a style of playing that is both expansive and free. It also means that the music must contain melody and harmony, which function as unifying forces.

For example, a number of the melodic ideas reoccur in each movement. The opening, unaccompanied violin statement, becomes the harmonic underpinning for the first movement cadenza. It also reappears under one of the themes in the last movement. The form is fairly familiar, having an expansive, varied first movement, followed by a slow movement, and then a fast, rhythmic concluding movement.

ARTHUR WEISBERG  Conductor

Arthur Weisberg is considered to be among the world’s leading bassoonists. He has played with the Houston, Baltimore, and Cleveland Orchestras, as well as with the Symphony of the Air and the New York Woodwind Quintet.

As a music director, Mr. Weisberg has worked with the New Chamber Orchestra of Westchester, Orchestra da Camera (of Long Island, New York), Contemporary Chamber Ensemble, Orchestra of the 20th Century, Stony Brook Symphony, Iceland Symphony, and Ensemble 21. With these various ensembles, he has toured around the world, performing over 100 world premieres and making numerous recordings. He has guest conducted such world-renowned orchestras as the New York Philharmonic, Berlin Radio Orchestra, Basel Radio Orchestra, Aalborg Symphony (Denmark), Symphony Orchestra of Copenhagen, Milwaukee Symphony, Rochester Philharmonic, and Santa Cruz Symphony.

Mr. Weisberg has composed 50 works that have been published by the American Composers Alliance and Bassoon Heritage Editions, and has had several works commissioned, including a work for the Library of Congress. Kalmus has taken on several of his larger wind and orchestral works. He has also written Twentieth Century Performing Practices for Conductors and Performers, published by Yale Press; The Art of Wind Playing, published by G. Schirmer; and several editions of bassoon literature.

Mr. Weisberg has made appearances on National Educational Television performing the music of Edgar Varèse and George Crumb. He has made recordings with the New York Philharmonic, Contemporary Chamber Ensemble, New York Woodwind Quintet, and Ensemble 21. He can be heard on Nonesuch, DG, New World Records, Composers Recordings, and Summit Records labels. Several of his recordings have won prizes and two have been nominated for the Grammy award.

SERGIU SCHWARTZ  Violinist

Sergiu Schwartz’s active international career has taken him to major music centers on 3 continents, including 20 European countries, Israel and over 40 U. S. states, as soloist with over 200 leading orchestras, in recitals and chamber music concerts. He has appeared in prestigious concert series with distinguished artists such as Itzhak Perlman, Yo-Yo Ma and José Carreras. Recent solo orchestral engagements include the Dresden Staatskapelle, Jerusalem Symphony, London Symphony Orchestra, London Soloists Chamber Orchestra, Sarajevo Philharmonic, Dresden Philharmonic, Slovak Philharmonic, European Community Chamber Orchestra, Florida Philharmonic, Chicago’s Grant Park Festival, among numerous other distinguished ensembles in the U.S. and worldwide. Mr. Schwartz has collaborated in performances with preeminent conductors, including Sergiu Comissiona, James Judd, Peter Maag, Giuseppe Sinopoli, and Bruno Weil. He has performed in major concert halls, including Lincoln Center, Carnegie Recital Hall, and 92nd Street Y (New York); Kennedy Center (Washington, DC); Barbican Hall, Queen Elizabeth Hall and Wigmore Hall (London); Kravis, Broward and Gusman Centers for the Performing Arts in South Florida. Mr. Schwartz is a frequent guest at national and international music festivals, including Aspen, Newport, Interlochen (U. S.), Israel, Interlaken (Switzerland), Kuhmo (Finland), Prussia Cove (England), La Gessé (France), Brasov (Romania), Sofia and Plovdiv (Bulgaria). He has been featured in broadcasts for major radio and TV stations, including the BBC, NPR and CNN, and has recorded for Vox, Gega-New, Arcobaleno, CRS Records, and Discover/Koch International.

Sergiu Schwartz studied at the Rubin Academy in Tel Aviv, where he also gained exposure to world-class artists such as Isaac Stern and Yehudi Menuhin during master classes at the Jerusalem Music Center. He continued his studies with Yfrah Neaman at Guildhall School in London, and in 1981, he was awarded scholarships from the America-Israel Cultural Foundation and The Juilliard School to study with Dorothy Delay. Mr. Schwartz’s honors include major prizes in international violin competitions in London, Switzerland, Chile, and the United States and awards from the National Endowment for the Arts and the National Foundation for the Advancement of the Arts. He is an honorary supporter of the Sarajevo Philharmonic Orchestra, along with conductor Zubin Mehta and the late Yehudi Menuhin.

A teacher of prize winning students in prestigious international competitions, including Premio Paganini (Italy), Pablo de Sarasate (Spain), Prix d'Europe (Canada), and Coleman and Carmel Chamber Music Competitions (California), Mr. Schwartz combines his performing career with his position as Artist Faculty-Violin at the Harid Conservatory School of Music at Lynn University. He is in demand for master classes and courses worldwide and serves as juror in national and international competitions.

Thomas L. McKinley
Associate Professor of Music

Dr. Thomas McKinley is a native of Kentucky. A busy composer and instructor, his teaching experience spans over a decade and includes positions previously held at Tulane University, The College of the Holy Cross, Tufts University, and The New England Conservatory’s Extension Division. He received a Ph.D. in composition from Harvard and both bachelor’s and master’s degrees (also in composition) from Cincinnati College Conservatory. He studied at Harvard with Leon Kirchner, Earl Kim, and Peter Maxwell Davies. Dr. McKinley has received grants, awards, and commissions from the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities (Extension Works); the James Pappoutsakis Memorial Fund, Inc.; Harvard University; ASCAP (Aspen Music School); the Wesley Weyman Fund (Boston, MA); the University of Cincinnati; and the Georgia Woodwind Quintet (in residence at the University of Georgia). The Georgia Woodwind Quintet has recently recorded Dr. McKinley’s Six Bagatelles for wind quintet on CD.

In addition to his work as composer, teacher, and pianist, Dr. McKinley has pursued research in music theory and analysis. His principal areas of interest are chromaticism in the Common-Practice Period and tonality in twentieth-century music. He has recently completed a study titled Dominant-Related Chromatic Third Progressions: a Reappraisal of Third Relationship in the Common-Practice Period, including a System of Classification.
