Biography

Eraldo Alves de Araujo, french horn

Eraldo became a member of the Youth Orchestra of São Paulo, Brazil after three months of study. A year later, he became principal horn in the Experimental Repertory Orchestra. He has recorded with the World Orchestra and the São Paulo State Orchestra, as well as several CD's of gospel music with orchestra, vocal solo and choir. Through his church, Eraldo has had the opportunity to serve as conductor of the orchestra and choir. He has played in important Brazilian orchestras including the São Paulo State Orchestra, Ribeirão Preto Symphony, São Caetano Symphony, Experimental Repertory Youth Orchestra, Villa-Lobos Orchestra and Paraná Symphony Orchestra. Eraldo has performed with the World Orchestra in Canada, Belgium and Germany.

Eraldo has won several concerto competitions and has performed as a result of these prizes with full symphony orchestras. As a member of the brass quintet Okynteto, Eraldo has traveled throughout Brazil and won top prizes in the 9th Eldorado Music Competition. Eraldo is currently a student at the Lynn University Conservatory of Music studying french horn performance with Dr. John David Smith. He has recently opened a french horn teaching studio at his church in Lighthouse Point, FL.
