

LYNN UNIVERSITY CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

2004 2005 SEASON

The Lynn University Conservatory of Music attracts some of the world's most talented young musicians. Here, these student-artists, who hail from more than a dozen countries, pursue their degrees in instrumental performance, preparing to join the world's leading symphony orchestras and most prestigious graduate music programs.

To build upon our excellence, we need your help. You may support the Conservatory of Music by contributing to scholarships, the development of new programs or other student needs. You may assist the conservatory the following ways:

THE ANNUAL FUND

A gift to the Annual Fund can be designated for scholarships, various studios, special concerts or to the General Conservatory Fund.

ESTATE GIFT

An estate gift will provide for the conservatory in perpetuity. Your estate gift may be made as a gift of appreciated stock, real estate or cash.

FRIENDS OF THE CONSERVATORY

As a member of the Friends of the Conservatory, you will be involved in an organization that seeks to address the needs of the students and the conservatory as a whole. This organization has just completed its first year and now includes more than 100 members providing major scholarship assistance to the students.

VOLUNTEERING

Become a volunteer. Contact the Ticket Office Manager at 561-237-9000 for more information.

Your contribution to the conservatory is tax-deductible. For additional information, you may call the development office at 561-237-7766, or visit the university's Web site at www.lynn.edu.

Dmitry Pogorelov, Violin

A recent First Prize winner at the 2004 William C. Byrd International Young Artist Competition for Strings, Dmitry Pogorelov is already a prizewinning young virtuoso violinist and seasoned performer. The youngest member of a well-known family of outstanding musicians in his native Russia, Dmitry is a winner of the international violin competition held at the prestigious Gnessin School in Moscow and the International Competition for Chamber Music in St. Petersburg. He participated with honors at the Tchaikovsky International Competition for Young Violinists in Japan and attended master courses in Italy and Germany.

Since coming to the United States three years ago, Dmitry has continued to garner prizes including top prizes at the 2003 Michael and Madelyn Savarick Annual Music Scholarship Competition of the Mizner Centre of the Arts, the 2003 Strad Violin Competition (where he also won the Audience Prize) and the 2003 Ludwig Spohr International Violin Competition in Germany (where he won a special jury prize).

Dmitry has appeared in solo recitals and as a soloist with orchestras in the United States, Germany, Italy, France, Japan, and performed in most prestigious concert halls in Moscow and St. Petersburg, including the Rachmaninoff Hall of the Moscow Conservatory, Maly Hall of the St. Petersburg Conservatory and the St. Petersburg Stadtskapella, among other venues.

Earlier this season, Dmitry appeared as a soloist performing Tchaikovsky's Violin Concerto with the Greater Palm Beach Symphony where he was proudly presented as the first candidate in the Symphony's Mentor Program. Following his performance with the symphony, the Palm Beach Daily News wrote: "Next came Pogorelov's stellar Tchaikovsky. Dmitri Pogorelov, the 18 year-old student violinist from Lynn University, is a mature, technically proficient soloist who performs the Tchaikovsky Violin Concerto with the skill and panache of a player twice his years. From the beginning Pogorelov showed the poise and control of an experienced soloist. His rich tone and technical facility reached to the core of the music. This was no youngster imitating a teacher, this was an artist making his own statement. The result brought the audience to its feet after the first movement ... as Pogorelov's performance demanded recognition even before it was over."

A student of artist faculty Sergiu Schwartz at the Lynn University Conservatory of Music, Dmitry has been a winner of the Conservatory's 2001 and 2003 Concerto Competitions, appeared as a soloist with the Lynn University Philharmonia and received numerous Conservatory awards, including the "Award for Excellence in Violin Performance" and the "Award for Most Outstanding Solo Performance." He has been featured on South Florida's WXEL Radio station.
