CBR Knights Undefeated

The CBR campus is buzzing with excitement this fall. CBR's soccer team, appropriately named the "Knights," has generated an enormous amount of school spirit and pride by claiming the spotlight on many sports pages. With a sterling record of 16-0-0, the Knights currently remain undefeated this season, and are ranked second in the nation in the NAIA. Quite an impressive record for a team born only three years ago.

In 1982, Roy Wiggemansen, a former professional soccer player with the Fort Lauderdale Strikers and a coach at Miami Westminster Christian, came to CBR to launch its soccer program. That year he started a soccer club to encourage new players and to give them a feel for intercollegiate competition. There were no soccer scholarships given that year and the team played a light schedule of 14 games. Considering that this team was so young, they did quite well; they were 5-9-0.

1983 marked the first year of CBR's official intercollegiate soccer season. Out of 11 players five were recruited, including Gus Pardo, Ferda Kavak, Paul Newman, and Shervin Shakib. Roy considers Gus to have been CBR's first legitimate soccer player and the first one to be awarded a soccer scholarship. While the College soccer field was being prepared, the team played on the Boca Raton polo grounds and sharpened their skills. Roy's and his players' hard work paid off that season. The Knights made it all the way to the NAIA semi-finals and ended their season with a 9-5-0 record.

With heavy recruitment and lots of enthusiasm, the program really took off in 1984. Roy and his Knights had two goals, and they achieved both. The first goal was to become one of the top 10 collegiate soccer teams in the nation. Finishing up the season with a record of 13-3-2, CBR was fifth. The other goal was to produce an All-American player. Gus Pardo achieved this distinction.

Roy feels that last year his team set a standard by becoming the third-ranked NAIA soccer team in the nation. Along with this tremendous accomplishment came an equal amount of pressure. "Although the Knights have great support from the College and from the local community, and have captured the interest of several newspapers, they still feel the need to go all the way to win the National Tournament. They are playing well, but are under pressure to do so." CBR has four more games to win before playing in the District Semi-finals.

Roy also feels that team spirit and cooperation have largely contributed to the Knights' continued success this season. "Compared to previous years, our 19 players are very dedicated to their game and to each other. It has pulled them through a lot of games this season."

As CBR alums, all of you can appreciate how far our soccer team has come, and take pride in its accomplishments. Those of you who are former CBR soccer players can say that you set the pace for what has followed: a winning reputation and a quest for athletic excellence.
A Message from the President

"Saying is one thing and doing is another."

CBR is organizing a total alumni network. Our concern for our students does not end with graduation. With the help of our alumni, we are establishing local, regional, and national alumni chapters. We offer opportunities for advanced education, whether it be an evening or a weekend course, business "refreshers," or a graduate degree. We are keeping in touch with our alumni. The Alumni Directory, which you will receive shortly, is a big step in reaching out to you. It is part of our commitment to you.

At the College of Boca Raton, we are not just praising our excellence, we are proving it.

As alumni, you will surely be interested in the College of Boca Raton's progress. The twenty percent increase in student enrollment, during a time when college enrollments are dropping nationally, reveals that CBR offers something special. At the College of Boca Raton, we have always stressed our commitment to providing a fertile ground for our students' academic, professional, and personal growth. But where a well-rounded educational atmosphere truly exists, it must also speak for itself. CBR's new academic year reflects its value as a sound, yet stimulating institution of higher learning.

We take pride in the teaching excellence of our faculty. Our pride increases as we observe the faculty offering formal and informal academic - and sometimes personal - counseling to students. Faculty accessibility and interest is one of our greatest strengths. In the 1986-87 academic year, we have added to our faculty. These additions, both full time and part time, bring diverse backgrounds to the campus. The new full time faculty have strong academic credentials that are sharpened by business experience. Our part time faculty very often have extensive business and professional experience. As a result, our students are taught from varying perspectives and achieve a broader understanding.

A Letter of Introduction

Hi!

My name is Nicole Rivet and I have recently assumed the position of coordinator of alumni relations at the College of Boca Raton. I am looking forward to working with you through the local, regional, and national chapters of the alumni association. Please don't hesitate to call upon me for assistance, and I hope that I can count on you for help with alumni activities.

Survey Quotes

"I feel my enrollment in the hotel/restaurant management program helped to prepare me for the running of my restaurant. It really made a difference."
Robert Zurlino '85

"The switch from Marymount College to the College of Boca Raton sounded so sad, yet I've heard many nice compliments about the school. Thank you for trying to get in touch with alumni - it's long overdue!"
Eileen Kiel-Spano '71

"My time at CBR was only one semester. I can never tell you the impression that time in my life has left on me. It was the happiest five months I can ever remember. I cultivated several of the most rewarding friendships I have ever experienced. My memories are vivid and many times I have longed to return and just walk the campus."
Betsy Markley-Nolan

"I enjoyed attending the College of Boca Raton. I learned a great deal, and I feel that the faculty and student rapport brings about the very special closeness which is invaluable."
Grace Mahoney '85

"The mortuary science department has been a large step in the growth of CBR."
Michael Howard '85

"I enjoyed my year and a half spent at the College of Boca Raton (then Marymount), and I feel that I received an excellent education there."
Linda Hamlin '75

Alumni Update

In just a few short weeks, the Alumni Office will have the Alumni Directory ready for mailing. This directory, which will provide alumni names, addresses, phone numbers, and class years, was compiled by using the May 1986 surveys and by referring to past alumni records. We still have many missing alumni. Help us locate your college friends by filling out the alumni information form in this newsletter with the names, addresses, and class years of alumni not listed in the directory. In addition, please use the form to report changes of address, weddings, births, promotions, any information about you!
