We Have News:
The Library Has Textbooks

BY AMY FILIATREAU, LIBRARY DIRECTOR

Here in the library, we got tired of telling students, "We have everything you need, except what you actually need—books for your classes." So, as of this fall, we are launching a new initiative: We have purchased at least one copy of every required textbook for every course at Lynn, and these will be available for three-hour loan to students at the Information Desk on the first floor.

If you adopted your text very recently, or did not adopt it through our campus store, please let us know as soon as possible.

We are so excited about this new service. Most university libraries don’t collect textbooks—they are expensive, become outdated rapidly, and multiple copies are often needed. But Lynn is just small enough that we can do it, and we know that the student need is definitely there.

Students who forget their book at home, can’t afford to purchase a copy, haven’t purchased a copy yet, or just haven’t received their copy in the mail, will always have the option to come to us and check out their textbook and read, copy, or scan portions of it. (Due to licensing issues, we have mostly purchased print copies rather than electronic).

As far as faculty-authored iBooks: If students don’t have their iPads or their iTunes U course codes yet, we will email them a PDF copy of the iBooks that they need for the class—they’ll lose the dynamic content, but this will hold students over until they get squared away with their iPads. For you, this means they will never have an excuse not to do the reading! So inform all of your students—they can come to us and check out a text for a short-term loan. Just tell them they’d better return it. Due to high demand, we aren’t messing about with the late and lost fees!

Contact Library Director Amy Filiatreau at afiliatreau@lynn.edu or library@lynn.edu if you have any questions. ~
You may have noticed last semester and over the summer that the Lynn Library undertook a massive weeding project. The term “weeding” refers to a library’s ongoing effort to keep its collection current by removing books that are collecting dust instead of being checked out by their community. We undertook the project because we wanted to:
1. Reduce shelving in order to free up space for student workspace
2. Make room for new additions that are purchased
3. Remove items that fall into the categories below:
   a. Misleading: Some older books may have egregious factual inaccuracies.
   b. Bad condition: Wear and tear takes its toll, and perennial classics need to be replaced after being too “well-loved.”
   d. Irrelevant: Material that may have served academic purposes at Lynn, but the program(s) no longer offer degrees rendering the material no longer necessary.

What happened to the books?
We made every effort to find the books a new home. We placed the books on carts for folks to take home—you may have taken some yourself.

Better World Books estimates we saved:
• 6 cubic yards of landfill space: It takes 1 ton to fill 3.3 cubic yards.
• 54 trees: Number of trees saved per ton of 100% recycled fiber produced is 24.
• 22,575 gallons of water: 8,750 gallons of water saved per ton of paper produced when comparing 100% forest fiber sources to 100% postconsumer fiber.

Published Faculty Alerts!

AMERICAN COMIC POETRY: HISTORY, TECHNIQUES AND MODERN MASTERS

BY JEFF MORGAN, PHD
PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH

PUBLISHER’S SUMMARY:
Comic poetry is serious stuff, combining incongruity, satire and psychological effects to provide us a brief victory over reason that could help us save ourselves, if not the world. Taking a theoretical perspective, this book champions the literary movement of American comic poetry, providing historical context and exploring the work of such writers as Denise Duhamel, Campbell McGrath, Billy Collins, Thomas Lux and Tony Hoagland. The techniques of these poets are examined to reveal how they make us laugh while addressing important social concerns.

Available: January 31, 2016 (Pre-Order: Amazon)
Publisher: Mcfarland & Co Inc Pub
What's on Display: College Success

BY SABINE DANTUS, OUTREACH LIBRARIAN
sdantus@lynn.edu

Currently, on display at the Library are books on college student success, research and writing skills, and college survival tips. Also we are highlighting the top ten things that students should know about Lynn Library.

COGNITIVE BEHAVIORAL THERAPY OF DSM-5 PERSONALITY DISORDERS: ASSESSMENT, CASE CONCEPTUALIZATION AND TREATMENT, 3RD EDITION

CO-AUTHORED BY JONATHAN SPERRY, PHD ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF PSYCHOLOGY

PUBLISHER'S SUMMARY:
The first edition of Cognitive Behavior Therapy of DSM-IV Personality Disorders broke new ground. It differed from other CBT books by offering brief but thorough user-friendly resources for clinicians and students in planning and implementing effective treatments. The third edition of this classic text continues this tradition by providing practitioners both practicing clinicians and those in training a hands-on manual of highly effective, evidence-based cognitive and behavioral interventions for these challenging disorders. Case material is used to illustrate this process with the most recent developments from Behavior Therapy, Cognitive Therapy, Schema Therapy, Cognitive Behavioral Analysis System of Psychotherapy, Mindfulness-based therapies, and Dialectic Behavior Therapy.

Available: August 29, 2015
Publisher: Routledge
Print ISBN: 978-0-4158-4189-4

If you are a faculty member with a recent publication, we encourage you to submit your publication to Leecy Barnett at barnett@lynn.edu for submission to our annual Published Faculty Reception. Also, the Library purchases a copy and places it in our Faculty Publications collection in-Library. We will include your publication information in Library Monthly.
The First Eight Things to Do... for Faculty

BY SABINE DANTUS, OUTREACH LIBRARIAN
sdantus@lynn.edu

The library is here for you 24/7! Our online resources are available anytime online.

1. Visit our Library’s website:
   lynn.edu/library

2. Meet/Email/Call your Liaison Librarian.
   Each college has a librarian assigned as the liaison for that college. That librarian is the subject expert for the college, works with faculty on information literacy instruction and library orientations, and serves as the research contact for that college.
   - Leecy Barnett: Arts & Sciences, Communications lbarnett@lynn.edu
   - Tsukasa Cherkaoui: Music musiclib@lynn.edu
   - Sabine Dantus: Education sdantus@lynn.edu
   - Amy Filatreau: Business & Hospitality Aviation affilatreau@lynn.edu
   - Alison Leonard: Online students; Sciences aleonard@lynn.edu

3. Visit the Library’s faculty page:
   http://lynn-library.libguides.com/library/faculty

4. Visit our social media pages.
   We'd like to invite you to join us on social media. We're on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram. Keep track of our latest tips and events & programs.

5. Request course reserves.
   You can submit course reserves online via the Faculty page (see #2).
   Course reserves help faculty place items (physical or electronic or both) in our Reserves system to ensure that students have ready access to course materials. Physical items - such as books, textbooks and DVDs (library-owned or personal copies) circulate for 3 hours. E-Reserves items can include articles, book chapters, lecture notes, links to library content, and much more.

6. Get copyright, fair use, permissions editing help for your iBooks or other publications/writing.
   Contact Jordan Chussler, Academic Editor at jchussler@lynn.edu for more information.

7. Ask your Liaison Librarian for a library instruction session for your classes.
   We play a major role in student success at Lynn. We help students find and use the information to improve their papers. We help with choosing a research topic, finding reliable evidence to support their arguments, and citing sources.

8. Online chat isn't just for students. Need help? Ask us anything! You can talk to a librarian via online chat. You can get help with your research over the phone, email, or at the information desk.

---

2016 Library Research Award

Introducing the Library Research Award, which will highlight student work that makes great use of the Library resources. The award has two categories:

- Undergraduate
- Graduate

Encouragement from a professor is the most important factor in a student's decision to enter the competition. If you have a student you would like to nominate or encourage to participate, prizes and submission guidelines are coming soon.

Questions?
Contact Sabine Dantus at sdantus@lynn.edu
How to Get Better Research Papers

BY LEECY BARNETT, INSTRUCTION & REFERENCE LIBRARIAN
lbarnett@lynn.edu

Over the summer, the librarians spent time doing assessments of Lynn student-authored research papers submitted through LiveText. You will be hearing more about the results of this project in the next few weeks.

One trend I noticed in reviewing the papers: Students in classes that took advantage of librarian instruction on how to find and evaluate sources tended to write better research papers. Why? Foremost, because they were much more likely to use scholarly articles, books, reports, and other documents and data provided by the library. Having been pre-evaluated, these sources tend to be more authoritative, in-depth, and reliable than the first tier results of a Google search.

Additionally, these articles and other library sources often come with preformatted citations. While not always perfect, these citations are far more accurate than citation generators like BibMe, Noodletools, CitationMachine.net, or EasyBib, all of which produce incomplete and inaccurate citations.

Secondly, students who have received instruction from Lynn’s librarians are aware of the criteria used to evaluate sources. Even the websites that they choose are generally better. In my instruction, I remind students that not everything on the Internet is created equally. I encourage them to ask the following questions of each source they use:

• Who is the author, and do they know what they are talking about?
• Are the facts accurate?
• Is the website’s bias obvious? Or is it hidden?
• Is the information current? Or is it dated?

Thirdly, students realize the faculty who take time out of their class to discuss how to find quality sources truly care about quality research, and that the students will be graded on this.

Lynn librarians can help you get better-researched papers from your students, including coming to your classroom to do presentations. Dr. Anna Krift considers library instruction a vital part of her courses:

"The librarians have been a tremendous resource for my students. Each semester, I look forward to their visits to my Dialogues of Learning and Political Science courses. The librarians tailor the research discussion based on the field of study and parameters of the assigned research. They reinforce the research and citation discussions we have already had in class, and go beyond by introducing new means of accessing research through our library system. Each semester, students tell me that they really appreciate the librarian’s visits and now know new strategies for successful research and crafting a solid paper.”

Furthermore, our librarians can do customized Research Guides that you can link to from your iTunes U course shells. You can send students to us for individual help on honing in on a topic, help with finding articles, books, etc., as well as formatting their citations.

Percentage of faculty surveyed that strongly agree, it is crucial for students to hone their information literacy skills while in college.

100%

56%

Percentage of faculty surveyed that agree selecting credible information sources is a significant challenge for my students.

Source: Information Literacy Survey to Lynn University faculty in December 2014
Library Art Heads to Auction
Proceeds to go toward library improvements and new resources

Artwork will be removed Sept. 9; sold at auction in November

Since the early 1990s, the Eugene M. and Christine E. Lynn Library has displayed and housed a collection of donated art and other pieces. Lynn University is grateful for the support of those whose generous gifts graced the library for so many years. Though the artwork will no longer be part of the library’s ambiance, it will play an important role and have a continuing impact on its future, as all proceeds from the sale of the art will go toward library improvements, renovations, as well as new resources for students.

Lynn employees and students may register to bid on the collection at the November auction (date and time TBD):
Lynn University's Collection of Ethnographic Works of Art, Fine Art, Photographs and Textiles
AB Levy Gallery
211 Worth Ave.
Palm Beach, Florida

If you have any questions, please contact Amy Filiatreau, Library Director, at afiliatreau@lynn.edu.

About Us Online

The Lynn Library offers a comprehensive range of academic materials for all Lynn students, whether they’re on campus or online. This means anywhere, anytime access to our collections. We have more than two million journal articles online, 250,000 streaming videos, and 180,000 e-books.

Mobile Friendly
The Library’s catalog and website is responsive and will work with any mobile device

Online Chat
Questions?
Chat at lynn.edu/library

24/7 Access
24/7 full access to all of the library’s resources from anywhere!

What we do online...

Online Instruction
Arrange for a librarian to demonstrate information literacy, researching, searching for e-books, articles, and videos in your classroom (online or in person).

Subject Guides
We have developed subject guides with links to the best databases for newspaper, magazine, and journal articles.

Course Reserves
You can search items (physical, electronic or both) in our Reserves system. Faculty can place items in our physical or electronic course reserves for student.
The Library's new best bet: Grammarly!

BY JARED WELLMAN
jwellman@lynn.edu

The Lynn Library has a subscription to Grammarly, a grammar-checking software that aims to embody its tagline, "Better Writing Made Easy." Please contact the library for the access code to try the resource and share with your students.

KEY FEATURES:

250 points of grammar: Grammarly scans your text for proper use of more than 250 advanced grammar rules, spanning everything from subject-verb agreement to article use to modifier placement to suggestions about avoiding the use of passive voice.

Contextual spellchecker: Correctly spelled words used in the wrong context mean embarrassing mistakes for your students. Grammarly spots erroneous use of lose/loose, affect/effect, lie/lay, there/their/they're, and many more commonly confused words.

Vocabulary enhancement: Enhance sentences with Grammarly's word choice suggestions that optimize for the context of your document. Readability and meaning are improved instantly.

Your Students will love this!

After I had done some research, I knew that I would need some expert advice. Eventually, I went to a local dealership to check out some new models. I talked to the saleswoman and listened to her carefully. Her honesty and professionalism were impressive. She had a lot of very helpful suggestions and showed me some safe, affordable choices. After a long discussion, I finally decided which one I wanted. She not only helped me with the paperwork and finished the sale, but also the insurance. I was expecting this purchase to be a serious hassle, but the experience was almost painless. Everything went smoothly, and now I have a brand new car!

I was so excited when I pulled out of the lot that the first thing I did was change lanes right in front of another car. "That wasn't very nice," I thought to myself. I needed to relax. I didn't realize what a serious mistake I had made; however, I hadn't just cut off any other car; I had...

In this screenshot, Grammarly highlights that the writer has written a sentence that created faulty parallelism. Grammarly advises the writer to be sure you use grammatically equal sentence elements to express two or more matching ideas or items in a series.

Tech Tip! Logging on to computers in the Library

Instructions for Faculty Computer Login

Follow these steps:

Username: Enter 'lynn' the first letter of your first name and full last name (no spaces). Ex. lynnjsmith

Password: enter password set for myLynn account

Make sure to log off in the Start Menu.
Events and Programs

All library sponsored events are free and open to invited guests, students and faculty/staff at Lynn University. For most events, we do ask that you RSVP. If you have any questions or comments, please call Sabine Dantus at ext. 7708.

*Hispanic Heritage Month
September 15 - October 15

*The Story of the Constitution... You Never Heard with Dr. Robert Watson
Thursday, September 17th 11:00am
Lynn Library, 2nd Floor Landing
Celebrate Constitution Day and learn about the little known facts of the Constitution with American Studies professor, Dr. Robert Watson.
Free food, giveaways, & live signing of the U.S. Constitution.
Lunch will be served on the Library Patio.
Please RSVP 561-237-7708 or library@lynn.edu

*Researching for College Writing
Monday, September 21st 5:00pm
Lynn Library, 2nd Floor Landing
The Library is more than a place to study. Learn about our thousands of e-books and e-articles, print books and DVDs/CD streaming videos; how to find what you need; and how to format citations. First Forty Series. Sponsored by Student Involvement.

*Banned Books Week
September 27 - October 3
Stop by the Library every day for banned book giveaways and activities!
The Library joins the American Library Association in promoting the freedom to choose or the freedom to express one's opinions even if that opinion might be considered unorthodox or unpopular and stresses the importance of ensuring the availability of those viewpoints to all who wish to read them.

*InfoSHOP @ the Library
Starting September 23rd @ 12pm
The Cube, Library Learning Lounge
9/23 | Get to know your iPad
Explore the common features, apps, and shortcuts on your iPad.
9/30 | APA Style: Tips & Tricks
Learn everything you ever wanted to know about APA Style.
All sessions hands-on bring your iPad, mobile device, or laptop!
Pizza will be served at all sessions!
Space is limited.

*Extra Credit Alert: Faculty consider encouraging your students to attend these events & programs by providing extra credit

LIBRARY MONTHLY

Call 561-237-7254
E-mail library@lynn.edu
Text 561-299-3043
Visit lynn.edu/library

Blog address:
lynnlibrary1.wordpress.com

Follow us on Facebook
Twitter
Instagram
@LynnULibrary

UPCOMING...

INFOSHOP @ THE LIBRARY
10/7 | KEYNOTE/POWERPOINT
10/14 | BEYOND THE RESEARCH BASICS
NATIONAL WRITING MONTH
November 2015
Every week, we will feature a Lynn Professor to speak about different aspects and genres of writing.

11/4 | JAPANESE TEA CEREMONY