Plans are well underway for the Ninth Annual College Ball, Le Bal Masque, to be held Saturday, November 18, 1989, in the Lynn Student Center. Count and Countess Adolph deHoernle are honorary chairmen with Mrs. William K. Carpenter and Mrs. John Zaccagnini as co-chairs for this year's event.

The Ball is the major fund raising event of the year and all proceeds from the black tie affair benefit the College Scholarship Fund. For more than 25 years, the College has served the educational needs of young people from 35 states and 40 foreign countries, and the District of Columbia. During the 1989-1990 academic year, the College will award $894,000 in full and partial scholarships to worthy students.

Le Bal Masque is not a masquerade ball; however, in concert with the theme, everyone is encouraged to wear a masque. There will be a competition for the most beautiful, most original, and funniest masques. Cocktail Dinner Buffet on the Veranda (see menu on page 7) will be served from 6:30 - 8:30 pm, followed by Viennese Tables in the Ballroom from 9:00 pm until midnight. The Boca Raton Award presentation will take place at 9:00 pm. Music for dancing will be provided by the Lester Lanin Orchestra from 8:30 pm until 12:30 am. Tickets for Le Bal Masque are $125.00 per person and are tax deductible. For reservations, please call the Office of Institutional Relations, 407/994-0770, Extension 209.

Continuing Education

No longer is the typical student seventeen to eighteen years of age who starts college directly from high school. Nationally, 40% of the students currently enrolled are older (national average 28), have some college credits, are seeking academic credits for life experience and are either seeking their degree completion for upward mobility in their current area or making a career change.

The College offers, through its Continuing Education Program, courses leading to the Associate of Arts in Business Administration, Bachelor of Science in Administration, and Bachelor of Professional Studies. The module format permits the student to complete one year of college level business and liberal arts courses in approximately ten months.

Students are given the opportunity to obtain academic credits for learning that has taken place outside the classroom. The competency based evaluation involves presenting evidence of non-classroom learning experiences for academic credit consideration.

This evaluation pertains to knowledge obtained through work (military or civilian), in-service training programs, volunteer activities, and workshops. Courses are offered in the eight-week module format, September through May.

Graduate Programs

If you have your bachelor’s degree and would like to obtain a master’s without interfering with your job or family responsibilities, you can do just that with a unique new program being conducted by the New York Institute of Technology and the College of Boca Raton.

“Our facilities are being used by the New York Institute of Technology (NYIT) to offer their graduate programs of study here and give South Florida residents the opportunity to participate in these programs while continuing to have full-time work and family commitments,” said Doug Cohen, Director of Continuing Education at the College and Program Coordinator for the NYIT degree programs.

The programs are offered on the campus of the College and they include the Master in Business Administration — for the manager with full-time work responsibilities; the Master of Professional Studies — to meet the competency needs of counseling professionals in alcohol/substance abuse or industrial counseling; and the Master of Science in Training and Learning Technology — to enhance and develop key competencies required in the human resource development field, appropriate for teachers and others in education.

Non-Credit Computer Courses

These courses continue to serve a need in the community as evidenced by full classes in LOTUS 1-2-3, WORD-PERFECT, and INTRO-DOS. The sessions are offered at various times throughout the year. They are hands-on courses with each student having the use of a personal computer during class.

Community Learning

"Write to the Paint," the first in a series of Community Learning Experiences, will begin in late October and deal with effective business communication. Topics of further interest are being explored.

New Scholarship Established

A substantial contribution from Mrs. Marian Shickler brought about the establishment of the James J. Shickler Memorial Endowed Scholarship. James was a member of the Class of 1986. The first scholarship, based on academic excellence, will be awarded at the Honors Convocation in the Lynn Student Center on November 2, 1989.

The new scholarship is a welcome and needed addition to the CBR Endowed Scholarship Program.

John P. Langan Scholarship

This Fall, the John P. Langan Scholarship was awarded to a student in extreme need. Five students from four different cities applied for the scholarship through the “Cities in Schools” program. “Cities in Schools” was founded by a group of national educators to assist needy students in their educational pursuits. Mr. Percell Richardson, of Philadelphia, was selected for the scholarship. Percell plans to major in Business and Administration.

James D. Matthews as Provost of the College — Jim has been with CBR since 1977 having served as Academic Dean, Vice President for Academic Affairs, and, most recently, Vice President for Institutional Research. He earned the BS in Aeronautical Administration from St. Louis University, the MBA in Management from North Texas State University, and is presently a doctoral candidate in Higher Education at Florida State University.

Lee Ross as Special Assistant to the Provost — Lee holds a BS from the University of Wisconsin, an MS in Counseling/Guidance from C.W. Post College/Long Island plus forty graduate credits in additional disciplines. She recently served as Coordinator of Adult and Continuing Education at Barry University for Broward and South Palm Beach Counties. Her background and expertise will be invaluable as she begins providing advice and counsel to virtually all areas within Academic Affairs, particularly concentrating on expansion of our Continuing Education efforts.

Gregg Cox as Dean of Freshmen — Gregg is Associate Professor of Mathematics and has been on the faculty of CBR since 1981. He earned his Bachelor’s in Chemistry from the University of Florida and his Master’s in Mathematics from Florida Atlantic University and is a doctoral candidate in Education at FAU. He will be providing guidance for the freshmen as they begin their adjustment to college life, serving as the primary liaison between freshmen and the various campus offices and individual staff members. Gregg will also be involved in coordinating and assisting faculty and freshmen in the academic advisement process and will continue with some of his teaching duties while serving as Dean of Freshmen.

Patricia H. Dye as Director of the Academic Resource Center — Pat earned the AB and MA in English from West Virginia University and was Chairman of the English Department at The Potomac Country Day School for five years. The Resource Center provides supportive academic activities for all students, especially in the areas of reading, English, mathematics, and study skills.

Paul S. Turner as Athletic Director and Assistant to the Vice President for Administration and Student Services — Paul’s credentials include the BS in English from East Stroudsburg University and the MA in English from Lehigh University. He comes to CBR from The Potomac Country Day School where he was a teacher and a coach.
APPOINTMENTS

John R. Patton as Faculty Representative to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics — a faculty member for six years, John is Assistant Professor of History and Business. He holds the BA from Wake Forest University, the BA and MA from Florida Atlantic University, and post master's work in Public Administration. As Faculty Representative, he will be responsible for implementing the overall guidelines and policies set forth by the NAIA for student athletes. John has also assumed some responsibilities for institutional research so that we can continue the program of developing institutional data on a longitudinal basis.

Kathleen Clunan as Library Director — Kathleen was the original Librarian for Marymount College and worked with the architect in the design of the facility. She will be presiding over the Library expansion, both in space and holdings and will be developing a formal program for Library acquisitions.

Thomas Noble as Assistant Professor in Hotel and Restaurant Management — Tom earned his BS and MS from Southern Connecticut University and is a doctoral candidate in Higher Education at the University of Connecticut. He was formerly an Assistant Professor in the HRM program at the University of New Haven and is an active member of numerous professional organizations.

Louise Sundermeier as Director of Career Planning and Placement — she holds the AA and AS from Broward Community College, BS from State University of New York/Albany, BPS from Barry University and is a MEd candidate at FAU. Louise was previously with Barry University in Adult and Continuing Education. The Office of Career Planning and Placement will serve as a resource center for students and recent graduates, provide job search assistance, offer workshops on resume preparation, interview techniques, and job search skills, and provide appropriate audio-visual and computer-assist materials for career exploration.

Rene Katsinas as Professor and Graduate program Coordinator for Health and Human Services — Rene holds her PhD in Rehabilitation from Southern Illinois University, earned her MS in Therapeutic Recreation from the same university, and her BS in Recreation Administration from Fairleigh Dickinson. She is nationally certified as a Therapeutic Recreation Specialist and has many years of experience in health and human services. In addition to her formal education, Rene has participated in various special training programs, presented at conferences, published articles, and lent her expertise to numerous organizations.
James P. Miller as Chairman of the Business Division — Jim has been Associate Professor of Management/Accounting for four years. His earned degrees are: PhD from American University, MBA from Catholic University, MA from Syracuse University, and BA from St. Lawrence University. Jim was formerly Head of the Business Department at Broward Community College and Business Division Chairman and Full Professor at Northern Virginia Community College. He was selected the Outstanding Teacher for 1988 by CBR students.

Linsley DeVeau as Chairman of the Hotel, Restaurant, and Tourism Management Division — Lin came to CBR last year as Associate Professor in the Hotel, Restaurant, and Tourism Management Program. He was president of his own consulting firm and held various positions in HRTM over the years. His EdD is from the University of Bridgeport, his MS from the University of New Haven, and his BS from the University of Nevada. Lin is a member of numerous professional organizations and has researched and published many articles in the hospitality industry.

Myrle Horn as Instructor in Travel and Tourism — Myrle holds a BA from Florida Atlantic University and the BS and MS in Hospitality Management from Florida International University. Prior to this appointment, she was an adjunct at CBR as well as operating her own travel agency.

Elliott Sacks as Instructor in Hotel and Restaurant Management — Mr. Sacks is a graduate of the Culinary Institute of America. He was Executive Chef at the West Point Officers Club and Chef/Instructor at the Armed Forces Culinary School.

Susan Braunstein as Associate Professor of Communications — earned her BA and MAT from the University of Louisville and the EdD from Florida Atlantic University. She was formerly Director of the Graduate Center at Florida Institute of Technology.

Ross Appointments

Dr. Donald E. Ross was elected to serve a second term as Chairman of the State Board of Independent Colleges and Universities during a recent meeting.

The SBICU is the agency responsible for licensure and accrediting of all private colleges and universities in the state of Florida. Dr. Ross was appointed to the Board of Directors by Governor Martinez in November, 1987, to serve a term ending in September, 1990. Shortly after his appointment, he was elected Vice Chairman. In June, 1988, he was elected Chairman.

Dr. Ross was also appointed to the Board of Directors of the Florida Endowment Fund for Higher Education. The Fund was established in 1983 with a challenge gift to the state of Florida of $10 million from the William L. and Maude L. McKnight Foundation and in 1984, the Florida legislature created the Fund by statute and subsequently provided the $5 million matching gift. The Directors manage the endowment to insure the continuation of two fellowships.
