GRADUATION '79

Hurray! Hurray! It's Graduation Day.

That's the way one feels after plugging away with those books, lectures and essays for two years, but all good things must come to an end and two years at the College of Boca Raton is no exception.

The day is a very special event for the graduating students because it is the end of a very important part of their lives and the beginning of the next step, wherever it may take them.

Saturday, May 19, 1979 will begin with a commencement by liturgy at 10:00 a.m. followed by a coffee for graduates and friends. The auditorium is the setting for the actual graduation ceremony at 2:00 p.m. The student speaker delivering the welcoming address is Bernadette O'Grady, Co-Editor of Pulse, and the commencement speaker is Tim Foley of the Miami Dolphins. Music will be supplied by The Telemann Society.

Following the ceremony is the President's Reception, from 6:00 to 7:00 p.m., with dinner served at 7:00. Dancing will follow at 8:30, lasting until 12 midnight.

There will be 127 College of Boca Raton graduates and 23 graduates from Trinity High School participating in the commencement exercises.

Two high school students have completed all four years of Trinity; of the 127 college students graduating, 11 will be receiving a Bachelor degree for completing four years right here at C.B.R., while the remainder will receive Associate degrees.

FOUR YEAR GRADS LOOK BACK . . .

by Catherine Amann

Among the graduates that will receive their degrees this May 19, several seniors who have completed a four-year program at the College of Boca Raton will also receive their diplomas. Among these seniors are David Allen, Patricia Casey, Sam Farrar, Sana Quadir, Rick Alworth, and John Shaw. Here are some of the thoughts these seniors shared with us on their four years at CBR:

David Allen: One reason David is glad he came to the College of Boca Raton is the individual attention he has gotten here. "I was able to do things here that I would not have been able to do at a larger campus." For example, David had one of his plays produced at the Caldwell Playhouse three years ago. Its title was "A Dinner Party" and it was produced by Mrs. Parson. Because of the small program he was involved in and the fact that not many of the other students were in the same field, David was placed in a lot of independent studies in which he feels, he "got a lot more out of the courses. I was able to voice my opinions more than I could in a larger class."

David feels the campus has changed in that it is making an effort to integrate the Day students to participate in the campus activities.

In the future David would like to become a recognized playwright but until then he would like to do something in communications. As an immediate goal he would like to get out and see what the world is like. "I've been sheltered for four years. I want to see the world for what it is!"

Patty Casey: Patty is a Sociology major and shared her views on the campus. She said that the college has "cleaned up its act" and has become more academically directed. Greg Mallfianco has made a big change and has brought a younger view to the campus. The classes have become tougher and her immediate goal is to simply "make it to May 19." In the future she plans to go to Washington, D.C. All in all, she has a lot of good memories and plans to come back to the Alumni functions.

Rick Alworth: Rick feels the quality of education at the college is better than that of a larger university because of the one-to-one small ratio of students to faculty. "The facility we have is excellent; the knowledge is there, the students just have to dig for it and find it themselves." All in all, Rick said that "it was fun!" and that he would highly recommend the College of Boca Raton to anyone. He is sorry that it could not remain a four-year school because the potential is there.

Rick's long term goal is to own his own restaurant in the South Florida area, but for now he will work a little longer at the Top of the Tower at the Boca Raton Hotel to "get some money tucked away." In closing Rick summed it up, "It's been real!"

SAC PLANS AHEAD

by Bernadette O'Grady

The Student Activities Committee has been tossing around some planned events for next fall. We on the SAC would like to encourage any interested freshman to please contact Mrs. Howie or O'Neill if you have some suggestions for activities next fall.

Here are what we are considering:

• To play up tennis and soccer as the two main sports on this campus.
• To encourage Intramurals in many other sports.
• A Christmas Formal.
• A movie series to run for the first semester.
• Coffeehouse nights which feature live talent.
• Sponsoring freshman and sophomore competitions.
• A campus outing picnic — on or off campus.
• A masquerade.
• A Casino Night.
... and three or four dances, dorm rep projects and the usual small parties that will take place on campus. A similar pattern will be planned for the Spring term.

It looks like a pretty good year activities-wise, so all you freshmen take note.

With finess, Marjorie Shull prepares each diploma.
Wipe That Stupid Smile Off Your Face!

by Bernadette O'Grady

It wasn't too long ago that I arrived on this campus a little scared and a little lost. But like everyone here, I soon found my way around and relaxed into the curriculum of the college. I participated in many things on this campus and got involved in many projects but that does not mean that I stopped having fun. On the contrary, the good times I had increased.

From Parent's Weekend to Drama Club plays, from Talent Nights at the Rat to Sock Hops, just during finals. My own undiscovered talent and my personal will and testament: I promise to Wershoven. I promise to the main offices: president, vice-president, treasurer and secretary, SGA President Gordon Luciano explained that a petition for the candidates to give formal speeches. A petition with 25 supporting signatures was collected from all candidates at this time.

The rules require that a candidate must be a sophomore in good academic standing with at least a 2.0 grade point average. Campaigning officially began on Tuesday, May 1, and ended the night of the speeches. As of press time, election results were unannounced.

SGA Elections
by Kathy Carroll

Student Government Association elections were held on Tuesday, May 8.

Candidates ran for the four main offices: president, vice-president, treasurer and secretary. SGA President Gordon Luciano explained that a candidate was elected for a full year-term which will commence next fall.

The day before the election, Monday, May 7, was set aside to dedicate the great American Novel to her if and when I write it. To Mrs. Yougander's many thanks for providing me with more information that I possibly could have gathered on my own. To Mr. Neil Ronco I leave all the fun I had embarrassing you! (If it was only serious)! To Mr. O'Grady I leave all the philosophy that I never understood, and my own philosophy that if it's worth having it's worth fighting for.

To Dr. Pickering, my thanks for being such a nice man. To Mr. Blaustein, all the complexities your class gave me! And to all the administration, my thanks for putting up with all my insanity and frivolity. You made school fun. And to wind this up, I would like to thank everyone for making the last two years some of the most memorable of my life. May you all go on to find happiness ahead!

On Thursday, April 5, the College of Boca Raton held one of its Bi-Annual Honors Conferences. This was to honor the students who achieved Dean's List status in the fall semester of 1978 and to induct new members into the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society.

On April 5, the College of Boca Raton held one of its Bi-Annual Honors Conferences. This was to honor the students who achieved Dean's List status in the fall semester of 1978 and to induct new members into the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society.

The students who were inducted into the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society are: Ronald Hill, Evelyn Kocinas, Jean Ann Natale, Bonnie L. Peluso, Linda Ann Penrose, Diane Virginia Perry, Olga Pokorny, Elizabeth Ann Ritter, Steven L. Roberts, Jean Marie Shumanski, Gail M. Sokolowski, Deborah Joan Stroller, Patrick J. Sullivan, Mark Thompson, Sandra Valencia, Thomas W. Valentine and John D. Wilkerson.

Tennis
by John Wilkerson

Next fall a new club will be formed on the CBR campus. The Tennis Club will be the first athletic-oriented club on campus. With plans for new tennis courts through the efforts of the newly formed Sports Advisory Council, the club is expected to expand in the future.

Another advantage of the tennis club will be providing more practice time for the tennis team, and providing an opportunity for more students to participate in tennis.

As always, the success of the club depends on student participation. If the tennis club is met with enthusiasm, other clubs of this type may develop. The tennis club will provide exercise and a chance to sharpen your tennis skills without ever leaving campus.

The tennis club will be providing more practice time for the tennis team, and providing an opportunity for more students to participate in tennis.

As always, the success of the club depends on student participation. If the tennis club is met with enthusiasm, other clubs of this type may develop. The tennis club will provide exercise and a chance to sharpen your tennis skills without ever leaving campus.
NEW CHANGES FOR FALL '79

In an effort to elevate the tone of the social climate on the CBR campus, a few minor changes in the student conduct and dress codes have been proposed and adopted by the Dorm Representatives in a closed meeting held last week. The following is a list of some of the revisions and guidelines that will appear in the Fall Student Handbook:

Dress Code — Ladies
All coeds on campus will be required to wear a cotton dress of uniform styling and length at all times. Color choices will be limited to puce, gray, olive drap, khaki, and fuschia. Hair will be worn straight and off the face, and contained in a style, yet practical hairnet during the daytime hours. The hair net may be omitted if hair is kept in a stylish bun.

No nailpolish, lipstick, eyeshadow, or any facial cosmetic will be allowed. Shoes will be limited to a choice of maroon penny loafers, or black patent-leather pumps.

Dress Code — Men
All gentlemen on campus will be required to wear white cotton, button-down shirts with a solid color tie to all classes and a jacket to all meals. Hair: It has been decided upon by the dorm rep. council that the most functional style will be the crew cut. (A Marine will be on campus the first week of September to administer the latest style of crew cut to our students, free of charge.) Pants should fit loosely about the waist, followed by required Royal Canadian Air Force calisthenics.

It is hoped that through these minor changes, the college will once again become the Pinnacle of Status on the Gold Coast, and an example to all other colleges. The faculty is certain that with this philosophy in mind, the entire student body will eagerly and wholeheartedly follow these guidelines, in order to better themselves and the college community.

In an effort to elevate the tone of the social climate on the CBR campus, a few minor changes in the student conduct and dress codes have been proposed and adopted by the Dorm Representatives in a closed meeting held last week. The following is a list of some of the revisions and guidelines that will appear in the Fall Student Handbook:

Dress Code — Ladies
All coeds on campus will be required to wear a cotton dress of uniform styling and length at all times. Color choices will be limited to puce, gray, olive drap, khaki, and fuschia. Hair will be worn straight and off the face, and contained in a style, yet practical hairnet during the daytime hours. The hair net may be omitted if hair is kept in a stylish bun.

No nailpolish, lipstick, eyeshadow, or any facial cosmetic will be allowed. Shoes will be limited to a choice of maroon penny loafers, or black patent-leather pumps.

Dress Code — Men
All gentlemen on campus will be required to wear white cotton, button-down shirts with a solid color tie to all classes and a jacket to all meals. Hair: It has been decided upon by the dorm rep. council that the most functional style will be the crew cut. (A Marine will be on campus the first week of September to administer the latest style of crew cut to our students, free of charge.) Pants should fit loosely about the waist, followed by required Royal Canadian Air Force calisthenics.

It is hoped that through these minor changes, the college will once again become the Pinnacle of Status on the Gold Coast, and an example to all other colleges. The faculty is certain that with this philosophy in mind, the entire student body will eagerly and wholeheartedly follow these guidelines, in order to better themselves and the college community.

HAD ENOUGH YET? Read On...

Dr. Ross will no longer be allowed to dress this way.

In an effort to elevate the tone of the social climate on the CBR campus, a few minor changes in the student conduct and dress codes have been proposed and adopted by the Dorm Representatives in a closed meeting held last week. The following is a list of some of the revisions and guidelines that will appear in the Fall Student Handbook:

Dress Code — Ladies
All coeds on campus will be required to wear a cotton dress of uniform styling and length at all times. Color choices will be limited to puce, gray, olive drap, khaki, and fuschia. Hair will be worn straight and off the face, and contained in a style, yet practical hairnet during the daytime hours. The hair net may be omitted if hair is kept in a stylish bun.

No nailpolish, lipstick, eyeshadow, or any facial cosmetic will be allowed. Shoes will be limited to a choice of maroon penny loafers, or black patent-leather pumps.

Dress Code — Men
All gentlemen on campus will be required to wear white cotton, button-down shirts with a solid color tie to all classes and a jacket to all meals. Hair: It has been decided upon by the dorm rep. council that the most functional style will be the crew cut. (A Marine will be on campus the first week of September to administer the latest style of crew cut to our students, free of charge.) Pants should fit loosely about the waist, followed by required Royal Canadian Air Force calisthenics.

It is hoped that through these minor changes, the college will once again become the Pinnacle of Status on the Gold Coast, and an example to all other colleges. The faculty is certain that with this philosophy in mind, the entire student body will eagerly and wholeheartedly follow these guidelines, in order to better themselves and the college community.

...
Wow! What a religious experience!!

You can all party - as long as you all party - quietly...

Wow! Look at all these teachers in togas getting plastered! Think of all the gossip - all the dirt - all the incriminating things we can print, Cathy!

Oh no! Oh we can't print any of that. We can't - we'll get our heads chewed off....

Oh what the hell, print it!

Wow! I've just found this rare form of fungus and mold... WHERE DID YOU FIND IT?

On a student's textbook!

What if I took an independent study in 'editor'...?
Classifieds

Looking for something to do on a rainy day? Contact Greg in D-wing.

Learn to play polo better thru T.M. See Tom Poindestier.

Learn the Freak in one easy lesson. See Todd Frost.

Drinking and pseudo-molestation lessons. See Todd Frost.

Join the Tim Woods Fun-to-be-Alive group.

Need to change your transcript? Contact Richard in the printing office. Recommendations can be arranged.

Learn to be macho: See Dave Disci. Report to the silver car with the "macho" tags.

How to pick up girls and learn to be charming. Contact Gordon Luciano.

Schedule problems? See Linda Penrose. I guarantee you'll be finished before classes even start.

Learn the art of passing school without even going to class. See Alexandra.

Tours of University of Miami—bring your own car. See Pete Rivera.

Baseball equipment for rent. See Room 12-08.

Chris! Please come home. All is forgiven. We have a parking space for your Trans Am behind Wixted. Your roommate.

Maps for sale. See Mike McCullough.

Tires for sale. All kinds. Specialize in Cadillac sizes. See Ed Dougherty.

Village People tryouts. See Billy Drubin.

Confidential to Chip: Would the girls still like the you if you knew you were Ralph?

Lost: One golf club. If found, see Tom Guzik.

If you can read this: Jesus Enrique Perdomo Quinones—you can learn to speak Spanish.

Need information on green Pintos? See Debbie Sawyer.

Class Wills

As the sophomores leave, they leave certain things behind (besides their terrible reputations!). Among these things they leave are:

Karen Strueussel leaves a can of Raid to Katie.

D-wing leaves a pair of Odor-eaters to Scott Kenney.

Bennardette O'grady leaves Jim Birch her collection of modern novels and her Chemistry notes.

Cathy Amman is taking it all with her.

Gail Sokolowski leaves her famous recipe for strawberry daiquiris to Wendy Omnan, and all her friendship and wishes for success in the future. Gail also leaves all her correct-type to Beth Arnold for all the upcoming papers she'll be typing.

Scott Kenney leaves his bed and the rest of the room, includ- ing Fred, to Pat and John in Room 106. He leaves Tracy his best wishes and Jim Shevlin his smolder and fins.

Ted Lewis leaves his weekend-to the boat to John Shaw and his typewriter to Jean Ann Natale.

Gordon Luciano leaves the fungi and parasites growing in his room to Ken Wentworth.

Gordon also leaves a sound—

Ten Worst Movies Of The Year

In honor of the recent Academy Awards it has behooved me to make up a list of the 10 Worst Movies of the Year.

(1) Good Guys Wear Black

This movie might have had potential if the camera had not been operated by an orangutan. Someone the credibility is lost when you see the microphone in every scene.

(2) Corvette Summer

A movie that dealt with dramatic and relevant social problems like "does the wax job shine!"

(3) The Driver

Regis O'neill does a great imitation of a dead fish and Bruce Dern just naturally looks toward those nice guy roles.

(4) Moment By Moment

Lily Tomlin as the seductive type! It would have made better science fiction.

(5) Porky's

After F.I.S.T. Stallone should have gone down for the 10-count and stayed there.

(6) Lord Of The Rings

The only movie in English that needed subtitles. Let's not assume that we've read the book beforehand.

(7) King Of The Gypsies

Who cares how the gypsies live?

(8) The Swarm

All buzz and no sting, someone tell Irwin Allen we've had enough of his catastrophes.

(9) Hurricane

Dino De Laurentis studied under Irwin Allen. I thought "King Kong" was fuzzier and more lovable.

(10) Ice Castles

Same old sob, same old story. It's amazing how entertaining a physical handicap can be.

— Honorable Mention —

(1) Any Bruce Lee movie—the man's in so many films you'd swear he was alive.

(2) It's Alive II — enough said.

(3) Any California Beach movie or Cheerleader, Pom Pom Girl flick. I think everyone but 15-year-old boys has outgrown them.

Advice From Trish

An advice and complaint column for the CBR college community.

Dear Trish,

I am in the Baseball School, and last week I went to go out on the diamond and the whole field was covered with knee-deep water. I didn't know what to do. We still haven't been able to practice yet and I want to be on the major league as soon as possible. What should I do?

Lefty Gomez

Dear Lefty,

Have you considered taking up Water Polo?

Dear Trish,

I'm really worried about what happened at the Nuclear Power Plant in Harrington, Pa. I'm afraid that the same thing could easily happen down here in Florida at Turkey Point. In fact, I've heard that there is a slight radiation leakage right now. How can I tell if I'm being dangerously exposed to radiation?

Nico Goodhart

Dear Nicole,

When your roommate starts urging you for a night light, then you've got something to worry about!

Dear Trish,

I'm a graduating sophomore in my last quarter of classes. I am taking College Algebra with Dr. Livingood. I was doing okay up until now but with the exam so near, I am starting to get the jitters. I'm still a bit shaky on factoring polynomials. Do you think I have anything to be worried about? I need the course to graduate.

Ann Lennik

Dear Ann,

Piece of cake! See ya around campus next year.

Classifieds

Complete Sports

Coverage

Starts On

Page 12

Cork And Cleaver

A new restaurant has just opened in our area. The Cork and Cleaver restaurant at 2300 Executive Center Drive, just off I-95 on Glades Road in West Boca Raton.

A varied menu is offered from Prime Ribs of Beef to a delicious sea scallops dinner. Each dinner is reasonably priced from $4.25 for soup and salad up to $10.95 for the best cut of steak. All dinners include a large salad bar, all you care to eat.

The Mexican atmosphere is most pleasant. The dress code is somewhat casual.

The Cork and Cleaver is open from 4:30 p.m. to 2 a.m., seven days a week. Dinners are served daily from 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. and the relaxing cocktail lounge is open from 4:30 p.m. to 2:00 a.m.

So come on in and enjoy a fantastic dinner or just drop in for a cocktail or two. The Cork and Cleaver is just what we needed in West Boca Raton.

Bunny Hop

by Craig Cherla

CBB students twisted and bunny-hopped the right away at the Sock Hop on April 28.

The true '50s bloomed as WAXY Radio's Andy Winston played the Golden Oldies. A small but involved turnout danced from 9 to 11:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

As the music jumped backwards 20 years, guys came in tee-shirts, sunglasses and greased hair; and gals strolled in letter sweaters, Bobby socks and ponytails.

Students won WAXY shirts, and Golden Oldies albums and books in contests for best costume and bubble-blowing contest, the freez contest and the limbo contest.

Why is this girl smiling? (a) school has been rained out again, (b) Robert Redford just called, (c) she just passed her math exam, (d) she's just seen Repute. Answer: (d), of course!
Predictions

20 Years From Now

Ever wonder about the future? Well, Pulse gazed into its crystal ball and came up with the following predictions for the future. Twenty years from now:

Sam Farrar will be conducting private interviews for stewardesses for his airline.

John Shaw will still be seeking power and influence at CBR.

Gordon Luciano will still be trying to pass Biology.

Mr. Ronco will still be killing fleas and ticks.

Nicolé Goedhart will still have long hair, no matter how it develops in the darkroom and out of style it is.

Derinda Blatz will still be waiting for something to develop in the darkroom and singing, "Someday My Prints Will Come."

John Buonanno will go to Sweden for a clog-change operation.

Lilla Castellano will be studying Botany in the jungles of Guatamala.

Wade Farrar will finally find a cigarette classier than Dunhill's.

Neil Flavin will be a bartender.

Todd Frost will still be soup­ing up Vegas with silver masking tape.

Al Kahn will be a display in Sak's Fifth Avenue.

Patti Koenig will still be modeling band­sides.

John Macri will open up a "Charm" school.

Kathy Wixted will still be trying to get some recognition from Pulse.

Karen Schausell will still be trying to calm down.

Susan Price will still be trying to wake up.

Plans

News Courses

A new semester brings with it many changes, and next fall will be no exception. In an effort to expand the curriculum and provide relevant, challenging material, CBR will institute a program of new courses leading to an A.Z. degree (Associate of Zero).

Among these new courses will be: An Introduction to Drinking, to be taught by that master of art, Todd Frost. The course is expected to be a popular one and enrollment will be limited to those planning to major in the subject.

In the field of Leisure Arts, the following courses will be offered: Pool Shooting (by Steve Dorsey and Tom Valentine); Hangover Cures (instructor, Sam Farrar); Pinball Etiquette (instructor, John Wilkerson); and Crown Camping, taught by Steve Murray.

In the area of Self­Improvement, the Art of Hair Care II will be a new course offered by Greg Drubin, and Self­Awareness will be added to the curriculum, with Tim Woode as teacher.

On the heavier side, Wendy Osmun will offer Party Organization, a course which will require considerable research in the field and the sacrifice of many week ends to the subject. "How to be a Reclusor" will be taught by Tom Poindexter, while Sandy Jamerson will offer a course in Car Care.

With these additions to the CBR curriculum, it promises to be an exciting year.

Pinnacles

Highlights of the Year

Looking back over the year, we were amazed at all the good things which quickly came to mind. With all our complaining and griping, we can't ignore the many high points of the year. Among them:

1. Furniture and carpet for Wixted lobby.
2. More parking lots.
3. New curtains for cafeteria.
4. Professional Food Management leaves the college.
5. The Halloween Ball.
6. The Rat changes to Harry's place.
7. Mrs. Sonia Gore's $1 million gift to the college.
10. No R.A.'s.
12. Car in the middle of the lake.
13. Third annual Waxy Sock Hop.
15. Tennis ball fights on frat row.
17. Two different student governments.
18. Two days off for rain.
20. And you fill­in your own personal good times.
Some movies are based on an event that happened a couple years before; the purposes of this is to remind people of that event, but how many movies are made for pure entertainment, and then a true-to-life story pertaining to the movie's theme, actually happens?

Jane Fonda stars as a weather-lady on a local television station who is given a quick promotion to cover beats she was not yet ready for. The main vision station wants her to cover a nuclear water plant, to shake hands with every man in the community. She agrees; she wants to keep her job, but Douglas wants the public to be aware that there could be a health hazard right in the community. Douglas is in hiding with the film, while Fonda interviews Lemmon who claims that it was "only an accident." However, when Lemmon realizes that the accident could have been avoided, and when he learns that the company is at fault, he decides to go public . . . but there's a catch.

Some society has been deeply involved with their health and welfare. Nuclear explosions, nuclear particles in the air and water have been largely talked about, but with the accident in Harrisburg, and the movie China Syndrome, it's now the number one topic. This film was originally intended as a thriller, but now, it's the most important film of the year.

What Are You Doing This Summer?

A Student Poll

- Arta Curran: "Looking for Mr. Right.
- Dean Hosta: "I'm surfing in California."
- Beth Arnold: "I'm moving to Ohio.
- Eddy McGahan: "I'm working and playing.
- Susan Dobyns: "I'm just working in New Jersey."
- Debbie Brummer: "I'm working and going to the shore."
- Eric Shaiman: "Hosting The Tonight Show."
- Scott Adams (better known as Brownie): "Dancing in the streets of Hyannis, and rocking for the Yankees."
- Liz Deaver: "This summer I'm working as a tennis instructor."

The Silent Partner

by Kathy Carroll

Plummer desperately wants. Plummer will stop at nothing short of murder.

Of course, The Silent Partner has its share of pretty women. Susannah York portrays Gould's boss and Celine Lomez ends up the double-crosser. Set in Montreal, The Silent Partner appears to have all the crucial, contemporary ingredients for success: a little violence, a little sex, a little humor, some love, and a plot. Most of all, the movie grinds the audience's attention in the opening moments and does not let go until the final scene. It's more of a "happily-ever-after" than a social comment, and therefore must be viewed as entertainment. The Partner is worth the price of a movie ticket.

Concerts

by Sue Steinberg

Moody Blues Thursday, May 3 Hollywood Sportatorium
Frank Marina, Mahogany Rush, Blackfoot, April Wing 8:00 p.m., May 5 Hollywood Sportatorium
Jacksons May 4 & 5 Sunrise Musical Center
Leon Russell & Willie Nelson May 18 & 19 Sunrise Musical Center

Busting Loose

by Debra Kangalo

The Fashion Coordination and Production Class presented "Busting Loose," at the campus poolside on Tuesday, May 8th, for the CBR students. We saw a fabulous array of what the best dressed college girls should be wearing this summer. The clothes were furnished by Flair Fashions, and make-up was done by Mary Kay Cosmetics. All in all, it was a truly delightful fashion show.