Recessional
Lisa Gangel Kerney is an award-winning broadcast journalist and ESPN sports anchor/reporter.

Kerney was born in Kansas City, Missouri, and grew up as one of five children in a sports-minded family. An outstanding student and athlete, she transferred to Lynn University on a basketball scholarship and majored in broadcast communications. In her senior year, she became team captain and was named Scholar Athlete of the Year.

After graduating with honors, she landed her first industry job as a sports producer/reporter/anchor at KXLF-TV in Butte, Montana. While there, she received the Montana Standard 2005 People's Choice Awards: Top Choice for “Best Sports Reporter” and “Best TV Personality.”

In 2005, she joined KING-TV in Seattle, serving as weekend sports anchor and Northwest Sports Tonight host. She also was responsible for the national highlight segment of The Jim Mora Show, which aired after Seattle Seahawks games. In 2010, she accepted a position with MLB Network as a sports contributor/reporter. In 2012, she advanced to sports anchor for CBS 2 News This Morning with WCBS-TV in New York. While at CBS/WLNY, she also co-hosted a morning show, The Couch, covering the tri-state area. She joined ESPN in February 2014 as a studio anchor, appearing on various shows across several platforms. She currently anchors SportsCenter.

Kerney is married to Patrick Kerney, former defensive end with the Seattle Seahawks and Atlanta Falcons. They are the parents of three daughters and a son.

A loyal alumna, she generously gives her time and financial support to Lynn University. She is a member of The Leadership Society and the President’s Alumni Advisory Council.

“Tou won’t find a more warm and welcoming environment built upon professionals who are thoroughly dedicated to helping students define and foster a vision for success,” Kerney says. “I left Lynn inspired and, most important, empowered to go after my dream, and I continue to strive to honor our proud institution that’s meant such a great deal to my journey.”
Richard ("Rick) Allen Sessions is receiving a Master of Business Administration degree with a specialization in human resource management. He earned a bachelor’s degree in criminal justice management with a specialization in police administration from Union Institute and University (Miami, Florida). Sessions was inducted into Sigma Beta Delta, the business honor society.

Sessions was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and spent his early childhood in nearby Lake Geneva. Sessions has since lived in Tennessee, Texas, and Orange County, California, where he graduated from high school. He then joined the United States Coast Guard where he served four years each on active duty and as a reserve. Nearly three decades ago, he moved to Florida and began his career as a law enforcement officer. He spent the majority of that career in South Florida assigned to two of the most esteemed and dangerous units in police work: the Homicide Unit and the SWAT Team. Sessions has been the lead detective on numerous high-profile homicides, suicides, officer-involved shooting homicides and cold case homicides. After retiring from the Lauderhill Police Department in January 2014, Sessions joined the Broward County Sheriff’s Office as a deputy sheriff. He is currently assigned to protect the county’s courthouses.

As a result of his accomplishments in homicide investigations, Sessions became the lead instructor for a 40-hour Homicide Investigations School, where he teaches officers throughout the State of Florida how to investigate high-profile homicide cases. During his career, Sessions has attended more than 3,000 hours of advanced training at schools around the country.

Although Sessions has earned numerous awards and commendations for his law enforcement work, he considers finishing Lynn University’s MBA program to be the pinnacle of his career. He plans to eventually become a command staff member of a law enforcement agency or a chief of police. Sessions would like to give special thanks to his biggest cheerleader and the love of his life, Becky, for her unwavering love, support and generosity. Sessions would also like to thank the Lynn University administrative staff and professors for their support and professionalism.

2016 class gift

Each year, members of the graduating class leave behind a gift symbolizing their time at Lynn. The class of 2016 continues this proud tradition, but in a new, impactful way: They have made a substantial contribution toward the $50,000 goal to establish Lynn’s first alumni scholarship. Known as the Alumni Pay it Forward Endowed Scholarship, it will be awarded beginning in fall 2016 to a first-year student who is in good academic standing and in need of financial assistance. Because of the generosity of the class of 2016, future generations of deserving students will be able to obtain a Lynn education, regardless of their financial resources. The university is grateful to the graduating class of 2016 for “paying it forward” so that other students can one day fulfill their potential and achieve success in the world.

Academic regalia

The academic robes and hoods worn by the faculty and students lend color to the pageantry of commencement. This regalia dates back into the medieval ages, when it served a functional as well as an ornamental role, separating the learned men from other groups and offering warmth and protection.

In America in the late 19th century, representatives of colleges and universities held a conference to bring order and system to the custom of academic dress. Since then, there have been periodic conferences to revise or reconfirm existing practices.

Undergraduates wear the black robes with the white collars. Holders of the master’s degree wear hoods, which are lined with the colors of the college conferring the degree and trimmed with the color representing the subject in which the degree was earned. The doctoral robe is adorned with velvet and is also worn with the hood suitably ornamented.

Holders of degrees from foreign universities or religious orders wear the entire academic costume as decreed by the conferring institution.

The colors on the hoods worn in the academic procession represent:

- Arts, Letters, Humanities - White
- Commerce, Business - Drab
- Communication - Crimson
- Economics - Copper
- Education - Light blue
- Engineering - Orange
- Fine Arts - Brown
- Foreign Affairs - Aquamarine
- Journalism - Crimson
- Law - Purple
- Library Science - Lemon
- Music - Pink
- Nursing - Apricot
- Philosophy - Dark blue
- Physical Education - Sage green
- Public Health - Salmon
- Science - Golden yellow
- Social Sciences - Citron
- Speech - Silver gray
- Theology - Scarlet
Undergraduate honor medal ribbons represent:

- White—Cum Laude: 3.50 to 3.64 grade point average
- Blue—Magna Cum Laude: 3.65 to 3.79 grade point average
- Gold—Summa Cum Laude: 3.80 to 4.00 grade point average

- Gold and green honor cord: Sigma Beta Delta business honor society
- Red and white honor cord: Lambda Pi Eta national communication honor society
- Blue and gold honor cord: Alpha Phi Sigma national criminal justice honor society
- Violet and jade green honor cord: Kappa Delta Pi international education honor society

The gonfalons

The gonfalons, a tradition that originated in the civic rituals of 12th century Italy, are a part of Lynn University's academic ceremonial protocol.

Lynn University designed the gonfalons in accordance with the standards established for all colleges and universities, and each bears the college's unique symbolic color. The university seal is presented on each gonfalon to embody the common bonds that unite faculty and students as members of one academic community. The vice president for academic affairs, in consultation with the academic deans, selects the faculty members honored to serve as gonfalon bearers.

The ceremonial academic mace

The academic mace dates back to the 14th century, when royalty, magistrates, and church or university officials carried maces in official processions. The design of the ceremonial academic mace incorporates elements from royal scepters and battle maces, representing both leadership and strength.

During the commencement ceremony, the mace indicates the authority of the university president to award degrees. The chief marshal carries the mace.

The Lynn University mace consists of a three-foot-tall wood scepter with a bronze cast of the Lynn University seal on the top. It was designed in 2002 by Graphic Design Professor Emeritus Ernest Ranspach, who presented it to then-Lynn University President Donald E. Ross in honor of 30 years of leadership and service.
A once-in-a-lifetime experience:

Lynn University and its students took center stage as host of the third and final presidential debate on October 22, 2012.
College reimagined:

Lynn’s faculty, staff and students are revolutionizing teaching and learning through Lynn’s award-winning iPad-powered degree programs.
We are the champions (again and again)...

Men's soccer brought home Lynn's 20th and 23rd national titles, and the women's golf team won back-to-back titles to bring home our 21st and 22nd national championships. Class of 2016 graduates helped design a brand new Fighting Knights logo and mascot.
Wearing blue since 1962.

Founder’s Day, with its beloved canoe challenge, is an annual tradition to celebrate our history and remarkable accomplishments.

Alma Mater

Music and lyrics by Joe Carey
Choral arrangement by Rick Krive

Under skies of blue
We’ve made friends so true
From every corner of the world
Celebrating different cultures
Made us see our world anew.
From this caring place
We will squarely face
The challenge of our destiny
Like our Fighting Knights
We'll lift hearts and sights
And we'll go forth in victory.

And if our blue skies should turn to grey days
Or we misplace a dream or two
We'll remember Alma Mater
And then Her spirit will see us through.

So let's raise our voice
In a proud refrain
Remembering good times we all knew
Hail all hail our Alma Mater
Lynn University ... Here's to you!
